Can Majó

"Delightful Fish & Paella"

Over the last 30 years, this restaurant on La Barceloneta beach has transformed itself from a simple snack bar to a much more sophisticated venue. It's now considered one of the best restaurants in the area. The menu is clear and simple: fresh seafood of impeccable quality along with signature paellas and decadent home-made desserts. The wine list offers a wide range from bargain bottles to fine vintages from Rioja and Navarra. There's also a cigar and liqueur menu.

Xalet

"Picturesque Dining"

Located on top of Barcelona's magnificent Montjuïc hill, Xalet is a restaurant that exudes sophistication from the cuisine and service to its ambiance. The signature dish of this restaurant, the meat cooked in Xalet style, along with a cava is a must-try here. Featuring contemporary decor, the restaurant is elegantly furnished in wood. The dining room is surrounded by floor-to-ceiling windows that look out on to the pretty slopes of the Montjuïc. Dine at the terrace, while the city forms a panoramic backdrop. A dinner here is the most ideal time, when you are surrounded by a blanket of night sky filled with illuminated speckles.

Agua

"Seafood on the Beach"

Agua boasts a beautiful location off the Mediterranean coast. This restaurant specializes in seafood made with the day's fresh catch and local ingredients. Savor the likes of steamed mussels, grilled fish and lobster au gratin with breathtaking views of the ocean. The nautical inspiration rubs off on the decor as well with maritime accents.

Torre d'Alta Mar

"What a view!"

This restaurant, nestled atop the 75-meter-high (246 feet) Torre de Sant Sebastián cable-car tower, is more a spectacular vantage point than any eatery. A predominantly seafood menu is cooked in traditional Catalan style and the service is more than satisfactory. Enjoy the breathtaking view of the city and the sea as you munch on delicacies like the duck foie gras terrine or rigatoni with mushrooms and sip on exquisite wines. Being an upscale luxury joint, it mostly serves high-profile customers. But if you do manage to get a reservation, you are sure to have the time of your life!

Restaurant Via Veneto

"Seasonal Catalan Cuisine"

Run by José Monje, this immensely-popular restaurant serves a wonderful range of signature dishes that are carefully-crafted the real Catalan way. Its immaculate reputation has transformed it into a firm favorite among the city's rich and famous. Some of the restaurant's main features include an extensive wine list, a wood-fired oven, top-end service, and a special four-course menu that changes each and every day. Decorated in the modernist style, you'll feel cushioned from the hustle and bustle outside in this exclusive and elegant setting. Guests can also reserve a private dining area if they wish to experience an intimate dining experience.

Mirablau

"Great View of the City"

Few bars in Barcelona can boast such a magnificent view of the city, and few people can afford to enjoy it on a regular basis. That's what makes this such an exclusive and fashionable venue. Mirablau is an elegantly-decorated restaurant and cocktail bar where the DJ plays a great selection of pop music. Even if just for the views and not for the beats, it's well worth it to make the journey up Tibidabo hill. Swoon to the upbeat music till late at night.

Can Marti

"Dining by the Mountains"

Can Marti treats you to a spectacular dining experience against the backdrop of the vast Tibidabo mountain. Perched atop a little hill, this is where one can enjoy their meals with a fine view of the woods and the cityscape. Specialists in traditional Spanish cuisine, the menu changes regularly to incorporate new, seasonal dishes and fresher flavors. From the signature calçots and seafood delicacies, to the Torredas and Begudes, everything on the menu packs a hefty punch of flavor that keeps you coming back for more.
