

"Best Quick Bites in New York"

Created by: Cityseeker

📍 5 Locations Bookmarked

📷 by Harris Vo on Unsplash ©

Caffe Palermo

"A Dessert Haven"

If you want to feel like you are in Palermo, this established cafe is definitely worth a visit. Caffe Palermo, nestled on Mulberry Street, is a delightful slice of Italian charm in New York City. This beloved café invites visitors to indulge in a taste of authentic Italian pastries and coffee. The aroma of freshly baked cannoli and espresso wafts through the air, captivating passersby. Step inside and you'll be transported to a cozy corner of Italy, with its warm and inviting atmosphere. The friendly staff greets you with a smile as you peruse the menu, offering an array of delectable treats. Caffe Palermo is a must-visit for those seeking a sweet escape and a true taste of Italy in the heart of the city.

📞 +1 212 431 4205

🌐 www.caffepalermo.com/

✉ info@caffepalermo.com

📍 148 Mulberry Street, New York NY

📷 by yanyan_hsu ©

Cha An BONBON

"East Village's Favorite Tearoom"

Expert Chef Tomoko Kato brings the aromas and natural flavors of East Asia to New York in the form of Cha-an, an elegant Japanese tea room in the East Village. They say good tea tastes better when enjoyed in good company, and Cha-an is a perfect place to spend an afternoon with friends over the choicest of teas and Japanese snacks. The decor has been kept very minimal and traditional, with bamboos and low lights to create an atmosphere of tranquility. Kato has thoughtfully created a good selection of desserts and savories that pair perfectly with the teas like Adam & Eve.

📞 +1 646 669 9785

🌐 chaanbonbon.square.site/

✉ info@chaanbonbon.com

📍 238A East 9th Street, 2nd Floor, (between Stuyvesant Street & 3rd Avenue), New York NY

📷 by geishaboy500 ©

PDT (Please Don't Tell)

"A Call Next Door"

PDT, which stands for Please Don't Tell, is a "secret" bar on St. Mark's Place. A call from a phone booth in Crif Dogs (the adjacent restaurant) is the only way to get in. Once accepted, a secret door opens up in the phone booth, leading to PDT. It's not much of a secret anymore though, because the club is hugely popular. Once inside, you'll find a crowded bar area steeped in darkness. The inventive cocktail selection is superb and a major draw. If you're hungry you can also order from the Crif Dogs food menu, which gets delivered to the club via a small pass. The friendly staff will give you great recommendations and ensure that you get the best deal.

📞 +1 646 922 8522

🌐 www.pdtnyc.com/

✉ info@pdtnyc.com

📍 113 Saint Marks Place, New York NY

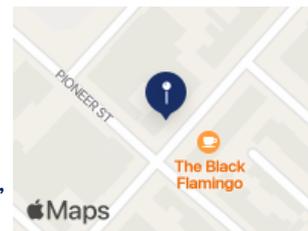

by pablo capra on Unsplash

Brooklyn Ice House

"Scrumptious Bites and Tasteful Drinks"

Perfect for casual drinking, Brooklyn Ice House is one of the best hangouts in Red Hook. Famous among locals, it serves decent brews, along with some delicious pulled pork. Their patio features wooden tables, iron chairs, and a small garden. Cheap food and cheaper drinks are what you will find here. The Brooklyn Ice House is for those who love to drink while listening to music and chatting with friends. Drop by to sip on some tasteful concoctions and unwind in the divey atmosphere of this place.

+1 718 222 1865

318 Van Brunt Street, New York NY

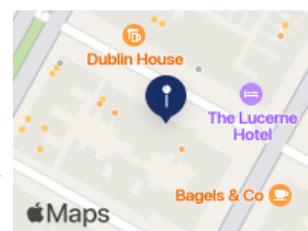

by Scott Eckersley on Unsplash

Blondies Sports

"Sports Addict's Idea of Fun"

Blondies Sports Bar on the Upper West Side is a great place to toast the victorious team with wings, fries, and beer. Every time one sits down here, drinking pitchers of cool beer and watching the games on one of the numerous televisions, it's party time thanks to the unbelievable deals. Particularly well-liked are the tasty buffalo chicken wings. Blondies is the sort of place where a bunch of friends can hang out, talk about the sports landscape, cheer for their teams, and simply have a nice time. The atmosphere is one of sheer enjoyment, and the location has a really laid-back vibe that is perfect for unwinding after a long day at the office, especially during their regular happy hour.

+1 212 362 3311

212 West 79th Street, New York NY

JOIN US AT:

cityseeker.com