Coolidge Corner Theatre

"Old-Fashioned Movie House"

Coolidge Corner Theatre is both sophisticated and eclectic at the same time. Erected as a church in 1906, and converted into a grand Art Deco movie house in 1934, this venue has two movie screens as well as a video screening room and exhibition space. Features include funky animation, quirky cult flicks, foreign and art movies, classics, and even first-run Hollywood hits. This theater also sponsors film and video festivals, performances and talks, and is also available for rental purposes.

Somerville Theatre

"Films & Concerts"

With comfortable seating and stylish purple walls, Somerville Theater is an amazing place to catch the latest blockbusters to hit the big screen. Additionally, the Somerville Theater also hosts concerts and live music events featuring popular regional and international touring acts. A cafe and old-fashioned popcorn stand complete the nostalgic experience. It's no surprise that students and young professionals consider Davis Square such a hip locale.
