Bluejacket

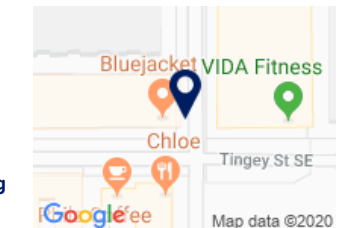

"Finely Carfted Beer"

The owners of the this pub themselves have been students of brewery. The beer served her is carefully crafted in order to suit a variety of palettes. They constantly reinvent their beers and work towards creating the best possible range of taste. The food here is served at The Arsenal which is a part of the bluejacket family. They whip up some delicious American cuisine to complement the beer menu. Tasting tours of the brewery are available by prior arrangement, tickets can be bought online.

Atlas Brew Works

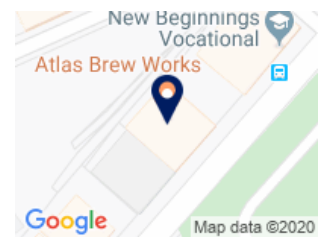

"Unique Craft Beer"

Atlas Brew Works is a microbrewery that specializes in lagers and ales. It provides tours for visitors and one can simply walk in without prior reservation. Sample brews such as the India Pale Lager prepared using Waimea hops sourced from New Zealand, the 1500 South Cap Lager infused with German flavors and the rye-based Rowdy Ale. Even though it isn't a bar, it has happy hours every Friday. The staff is friendly and educates guests on the various brewing processes. The brewery tours are conducted only at even-numbered hours on Saturdays.

Hellbender Brewing Company

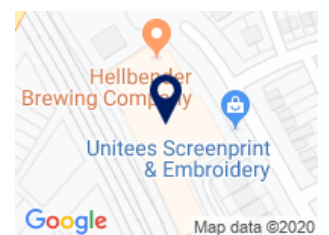

"Brew it the Belgian Way!"

Hellbender Brewing Company was established by two friends, Ben Evans and Patrick Mullane. This place got its name from the endangered east coast salamander species called hellbender. The brewing recipes and quality of beer is maintained by Ben who is a microbiologist as well as a neuroscientist. This company claims to have an environmentally-friendly approach to brewing. With its unique Belgian brewing technique, mash filtration helps to extract a higher quantity of beer. They also conduct tours and and have a tasting room where one can taste or purchase their draft beers.

DC Brau

"Craft Beer"

If you're visiting DC and you're a beer connoisseur, DC Brau is a great place to visit. The brewery, one of the few easily accessible within the city, offers tours of its premises, tastings and a number of events across the week. The best part is, you don't have to leave the kids home! They can visit too, and learn about the fascinating methods and science behind brewing beer, though of course, you have to be 21 years old to enjoy a glass.

Port City Brewing Company

"Brewery with a Secret Weapon"

Port City Brewing Company claims the title for the oldest packaging brewing company in the DC area. You may wonder, what's their secret behind being successful for all these years? Some may claim it's the legendary hopzooka, a piece of machinery created by the brewery's brewmaster that allows hops to be added to beer without ever being exposed to oxygen. You can spot this piece of magical beer machinery on a tour of the brewery, or simply enjoy the results of such a creation when you sip on one of the brewery's many hop-tastic beers. Just be sure to look for the pineapple on top of the Port City Brewing Company sign - this spiky fruit signifies that the brewery is open.
