Millennium Biltmore Los Angeles

"Opulent & Historic"

The Italian-Spanish influence is evident almost everywhere at the Millennium Biltmore Hotel. The hand-painted frescoes, the bas-relief décor, the fountains, the polished wood floors, the ornate ceilings and the abundant flowers all contribute to class and elegance that is practically beyond words. A favorite since 1923, and a member of Historic Hotels of America, this famed hotel hosted the Academy Awards during the 1930s and 1940s. Guests have included dignitaries like Winston Churchill, Presidents Kennedy, Ford, Carter and Reagan, as well as British royalty.

Hairroin

"Glorious Hair Day"

Having garnered considerable clout and relocated to a prime spot in the 15Twenty Space on Cahuenga, Hairroin is the hair salon for those seeking an individually customized look – whether glamorous or edgy – that goes above and beyond a basic cut. The famed Hollywood salon enjoys its fair share of lauding and boasts a large contingent of loyal converts, who will settle for no other place. Hairroin is staffed with certified Masters of coiffing and barbering arts, offering a comprehensive range of hair transformations and treatments, including all of the latest fancies. You may be wise to schedule your appointment well in advance and call in to discuss your specific aesthetic goals so your assigned Master hairdresser can best meet your needs. To avoid the hassles of finding a spot on the street, park in one of the two spacious lots on Selma and Ivar.

Musso & Frank Grill

"Old Hollywood Still Shines"

Open since 1919, this classic restaurant has long been the bastion of Hollywood power dining. With the look and feel of a private Men's club, Musso & Frank Grill rose to fame in the Golden Years of Hollywood, when Irving Thalberg, Clark Gable, and the Marx Brothers were among its most celebrated clients. Nowadays, it is still considered the home of the finest dry martini in town. The Filet Mignon is hard to beat, and the service is perfect, with just a touch of attitude. If you are not in the mood for beef, try the succulent lobster and the rich, heavy desserts. The restaurant's interior exudes a classic old-world charm, with dark wood paneling, red leather booths, and vintage black-and-white photos adorning the walls. Stepping inside Musso & Frank Grill feels like stepping back in time, as it has retained much of its original decor and ambiance, allowing patrons to experience a sense of nostalgia and a glimpse into Hollywood's golden era.

Canter's

"Granddaddy of Delis"

Since 1928, this L.A. standby has been offering 24-hour casual dining in the heart of the Fairfax district. You'll find the food here authentic and the people-watching amazing. Everyone from The Wallflowers to K.D. Lang and Madonna has stopped in to eat here. Favorites include the in-house pickled corned beef pastrami, the hot corned beef, the tender beef brisket and the many offerings from the in-house bakery. Next door is the Kibitz Room, where there's live music most nights. A full bar and decent wines work well with the food.

Matsuhisa

"Sushi Extraordinaire"

Do not even drive by without confirmed reservations, this is the most popular Japanese eatery in town. It is considered by many to be the best sushi place in the US, and the best restaurant in the greater city of Los Angeles. Everything is fresh, delicious and very expensive, after all it is the workmanship of Nobu Matsuhisa. Rub elbows with the rich and famous, but leave your autograph book at home.

Château Marmont

"Private, Exclusive & Eclectic"

Château Marmont hotel has been an icon of privacy and seclusion since the 1930s for the likes of Greta Garbo, Sam Shepard, Johnny Depp and Keanu Reeves. The French castle-like hotel was restored in 1998 to its original eclectic, but tasteful, beginnings. With suites and bungalows offered, you may choose your level of preferred privacy. The Bar Marmont is one of the hottest bars on the Sunset Strip. Château Marmont has more than its fair share of notoriety. The Château Marmont is entirely charming and a great place to stay since it's close to everything in Beverly Hills and Hollywood.

Andaz West Hollywood

"Fashionable Location"

Andaz West Hollywood sits close to Sunset Plaza, the House of Blues and other noted places on the Sunset Strip. The 1930s art deco style and the geometric lines used throughout its fashionable décor make the place very unique. The highly visible advertising space on its 14-floor sides have become a local landmark of sorts. Multi-million dollar renovations completely revamped public areas including the Trampono restaurant, lobby, rooftop pool and meeting areas.

The Ivy

"For the Rich & Famous"

This celebrity hangout has been visited by beautiful people for years and shows no signs of slowing down. If you don't have a reservation or a studio deal, however, don't even try it. The decor is simple and focuses your attention on the crowd and the menu, which are both out of this world. The crab cakes are a favorite, and the fried chicken is also excellent. If you can afford it, The Ivy is a great place to hobnob with the movers and shakers. If not, you can always order a drink at the bar. Be sure to make a reservation.

Dan Tana's

"Great Food with Star Power!"

Dan Tana was a refugee from Yugoslavia and started as a lowly dishwasher who later went on to own the place. This was nearly 50 years ago! His is one of the finest restaurants in the United States. It may not be the swankiest but the ambiance is friendly and exciting at the same time. Located in West Hollywood, a few steps from Beverly Hills, Dan Tana's has a democratic mix of Hollywood's high, low and in-between. Longtime established stars like Peter Falk and Karl Malden may be seen along with newer celebs like Matt Damon, Ben Affleck, and Drew Barrymore!

Rainbow Bar and Grill

"Historic Rock 'n' Roll Club"

Still commonly known as the "Rainbow Room," this fabled Sunset Strip institution continues to deliver a good time with live rock shows, fun finger food and late-night dining. The roomy interiors consist of a dining room, several bars, upstairs dance floor and patio decorated with kitschy rock 'n' roll memorabilia, Christmas lights, burgundy leather booths and even a vintage arcade game. The food offered is an Italian-American fusion of popular munchies such as pizza, sandwiches, steaks and a diverse vegetarian selection. Keep in mind that it is possible to reserve special seating above the stage.

Katsuya

"In-Your-Face-Beauty"

The decor of this sushi restaurant deserves a special mention, as the work of designer Philippe Starck is impressive. The wall features super-large photographs of the eyes and lips of a Japanese woman. The effect is surprisingly stunning, given the place's light brown hues, glass doors, private booths and simple, uncovered furniture. The offerings at Katsuya are similar to the food offered by Chef Katsuya Uechi in the other LA branches. There is a fixed price menu for those who want to try a variety of dishes. Others can savor the sushi and tempura, which go well with the sake. Stars are known to hang out here, so you never know who you might just end up dining next to.
