The Red Lion Tavern

"German Beer Hall"

This maze-like Bavarian bar and restaurant is a find you will not forget. How it got here is beside the point; it has practically become an historic treasure. Sample one of the great German beers and do not forget to try the amazing food. The Bratwurst, in particular, is worth a repeat visit. If you are meeting friends, make sure you know in which room to venture in to for it is quite likely for one to get lost here.

Blue Palms Brewhouse

"Dining at The Music Box"

Blue Palms Brewhouse is attached to The Music Box venue of the Henry Fonda Theatre. The high-ceilinged, spacious lounge features large plush sofas with pillows, and a wooden bar with golden hues. You'll see a lot of the theater-going crowd as well as youngsters looking to chill out. The weekly-changing menu includes small plates of appetizers, which are very popular with the locals. Blue Palms Brewhouse also hosts live performances and other events on a regular basis.

Jameson's Irish Pub

"Whiskey, beer and ribs all go green!"

It's a well known fact that the Irish love their sport with a good brew and food. Jameson's has made its name as one of the recognized sports bars in Hollywood. They serve a wide selection of whiskeys and a list of well brewed beer that you can choose to have while watching your game. They can play pretty much any game on the TVs ranging from favorite Irish teams to boxing matches. Their food is something people would love to come back for. Another factor that has led to the popularity of this pub and sports bar is that it is quite affordable. You can hardly find anything on the menu that goes over 10 dollars. So come and down to have whiskey or a pint.

Brennan's

"Turtle Race Bar"

Brennan's Pub is a great place for several reasons, the bartenders are friendly, the ambiance is welcoming, and the food is outstanding; the drinks are inexpensive and the crowd couldn't be friendlier. The massive TV sets make it great to catch your favorite game over a couple of drinks. Best of all, the speedy turtles drag tails around a makeshift track which takes place on the first and third Thursday of every month. During the race, five turtles enter a ring and the first one to make it out wins the race. This is a unique experience that will definitely make Brennan's Pub unforgettable. In addition to this, the pub also has some games and a beautiful outdoor patio where you can sit back and relax.
