The LINQ Promenade

"Amazing Venue On The Strip"

A fun feature of The LINQ Hotel & Casino, The LINQ Promenade is a must-experience shopping and entertainment center. It is located in the heart of the Las Vegas Strip and houses not only myriad shops and restaurants but also attractions like the Brooklyn Bowl and the High Roller, a towering 500-foot (152-meter) observation wheel that is often touted as the tallest in the world. Visitors to the bustling site adore boutiques like Bella Scarpa and Ruby Blue, foodie stops like Haute Doggery and Amorino Gelato, and nightlife venues like O'Sheas. One thing is for sure: whatever brings you to The LINQ Promenade, you're bound to leave wearing a smile.

Downtown Container Park

"Massive Shopping Complex"

Downtown Container Park is a gigantic shopping complex created using abandoned shipping containers, hence the name. These shipping containers are an address to eclectic shops selling local merchandise, souvenirs and more, and their creative layout simply leaves you in awe. There are also many restaurants that call these quaint containers home. Apart from shopping, what makes this place unique are the various exhibits of massive sculptures that line the park, one such attraction is the giant, fire-emitting Mantis which was again created using recycled materials. The Downtown Container Park also has a wonderful tree house and the park's open ground is used as a venue for live musical performances. This is without a doubt a must-visit when in the city.
