Woody's Bar

"Shake A Leg Or Go Clickety Click"

A dance club, gay hangout, bar and cyber cafe—Woody's Bar serves more than one purpose. Woody's bar is populated by the guys predominantly and occasionally the female folk saunter in. Sprawled over a few floors, Woody's lets one enjoy drinks, dance and also offers free internet access at the cyber cafe upstairs. So whether it is the dance floor that grabs your attention or the computers, take your pick.

Tabu Lounge and Sports Bar

"Philly's Eclectic Nightlife"

Tabu Lounge & Sports Bar offers a unique nightlife experience in Philadelphia. Located on the 12th Street, the sports bar caters to a wide demographic of patrons - gay, straight, men, women, tourists, locals, young, middle-aged, sports fans, jocks and so on. On offer here is a good selection of classic comfort food along with an impressive bar which features several top shelf wines, spirits and over 10 beers on tap. Apart from this and their extended happy hours, Tabu also has a busy calendar of events, best known among these are their burlesque and drag queen shows that bring quite many regulars to this Washington Square haunt. The waitstaff and bartenders are extremely friendly and on the whole, Tabu Lounge & Sports Bar makes for a great experience.

The Bike Stop

"Sports, Dating & Partying"

The Bike Stop is actually comprised of four venues: The Bike Stop, The Short Stop, The Pit Stop and The Top of the Stop. The first is the principal bar, while the second is the sports bar where patrons can play pool and watch sports events on the television screens. The third serves as a good spot for singles to socialize and find their significant other. The last space is used for special parties and events. This gay and lesbian bar employs outstanding bartenders who make the night special with novel cocktails. For the best experience, head here during Happy Hours and DJ Nights, where famous local DJs spin groovy tracks.
