Wisteria

"Down Home Cookin'"

Wisteria is a lovely neighborhood restaurant in the Inman Park area. The atmosphere is modest-rustic, yet very comfortable. Interior decoration mainly consists of a combination of brick and wood finishes with tables for two aligned across the wall. Wisteria is a great place to take visitors for a lively evening meal. The Menu is American with Southern culinary accents, e.g. their signature dish which is Molasses-Rubbed Pork Tenderloin, is absolutely delicious. Seafood lovers may try North Atlantic Skate Wing served over stone-ground corn grits. Service is very friendly and efficient.

Bacchanalia

"Feast Fit for the Gods"

Considered by many to be Buckhead's finest restaurant, this brick Victorian cottage sets a romantic table. Elegance pervades every inch and corner of the stylish dining room. High-end seafood is the catch of the day, with memorable offerings from the dessert cart, such as Valrhona chocolate cake with olive oil ice cream. Chef Anne Quatrano's creations - the Wild Striped Bass, the Braised Short Rib and the Foie Gras Terrine - are melt-in-your-mouth masterpieces. This place boasts a full bar and an excellent wine list.

Canoe

"Dine by the Riverside"

Located on the banks of the Chattahoochee River, Canoe's historic setting makes it the perfect bucolic spot for any momentous occasion. Offering scrumptious New American fare, the restaurant takes pride in its farm-to-table concept. By blending flavorful culinary offerings with idyllic natural sights, Canoe has garnered countless accolades for its unmatched dining experience. The contemporary American menu features a variety of seafood selections, while both dinner and dessert menus showcase Southern specialties. Locals often vie for a table here, making reservations months in advance. However, the wait for Canoe is always worth it, given the superior dining experience that awaits patrons.
