Fogo de Chão

"Meat Treat"

As the name implies, this is a typical Brazilian eatery popular for traditionally prepared meat offerings. Once you're here, you'll surely find your table laden with delicious cuts of beef, mutton, chicken and lamb served with fresh vegetables. The ambiance is upmarket and the service is friendly, though come here primarily for the food feast. Vegetarians might feel comfortable elsewhere.

Divan Restaurant & Bar

"Romantic Middle Eastern Dining"

Long windows, soothing colors, comfortable seating, and mellow lights, all make Divan Restaurant an intimate Middle Eastern oasis. The scents of exotic candles and hookahs mingle with the aroma of the Mediterranean and Middle Eastern cuisine to create a warm and welcoming atmosphere. Here, you can relish fare like Lamb Kabobs Salad and Spicy Shrimp, while you sip on some Turkish beer or a Pomegranate Martini, which happens to be the house specialty. You can end the languorous meal with a fruit-flavored hookah or sheesha.

57th Fighter Group

"Steaks, Airplanes & WWII"

Open once again after a hiatus of several years, the 57th Fighter Group is a World War II-themed restaurant with windows overlooking the runways of Peachtree-DeKalb Airport. Designed to look like a European farmhouse and filled with WWII-era decor, the ambiance offers a unique experience. Even the long drive leading to the parking lot has a nostalgic feel. Aviation enthusiasts can sit at tables equipped with headphones, which stream the radio transmissions between pilots and the nearby control tower. Sandwiches are served during lunch with homemade chips, but at night the most popular dishes are steaks. The Sweetwater 420 beer cheese soup is not to be missed as an appetizer.
