CrossFit Atlanta

"Innovative System"

Established in 2005, CrossFit Atlanta is one of the oldest CrossFit centers in the state. CrossFit is an innovative fitness program that utilizes numerous disciplines, including aerobics and gymnastics for an all-rounded regime to improve the body's strength and conditioning. The center had humble beginnings, operating from an open backyard at first and a little warehouse, a year later. Today, CrossFit Atlanta occupies an expansive studio, equipped with modern fitness gear and experienced trainers to assist you with your regime. One of the most popular fitness centers in the city, CrossFit is the place to be if you're looking to break away from the usual gym programs. Check website for more information.

Flywheel Atlanta

"Cycle it Out"

Cycling in an enclosed space has become more interesting with Flywheel Atlanta. Located in various cities across the country, this is Atlanta's very first Flywheel outlet. Founded by Ruth Zukerman, this place offers spinning classes that last for approximately an hour. Within these 60 minutes you are sure to sweat it out, the fun way. Movements are synchronized to upbeat music compiled by their very own DJ. Flywheel also offers barre routines, where you can attain a desired body shape through stretches. Check the website for schedule of classes.
