

"Best Indian in Seattle"

Created by: Cityseeker

 11 Locations Bookmarked

 by TheCulinaryGeek

Annapurna Cafe

"From the Indian Hinterland"

Annapurna Cafe was started by Roshita Sharma, a native Nepalese herself and today has become a neighborhood staple for Indian and Nepalese cuisine. An intimate and casual ambiance resonates through the ornately decorated dining room, creating the perfect atmosphere to enjoy family affairs, friendly night-outs and special occasions. The well-laid out menu features a variety of specialties like calamari pakoras, lamb kofta, chicken tikka masala, lhasa curry and kathmandu noodle soup. Post-dining patrons can relax in the bar area with cocktails, beers and decent wines. Walk-ins are welcomed.

 +1 206 320 7770

 annapurnacafe.com/

 info@annapurnacafe.com

 1833 Broadway, Seattle WA

 by PublicDomainPictures

Spinasse

"Piedmont-Inspired Italian"

Open since 2008, Spinasse has gained a popular following for its cuisine inspired by the Piedmont region of Northern Italy. Menu items include roasted cauliflower flan, prosciutto di Parma, hand-cut pasta and braised pork belly. The restaurant also offers a 10-course meal served at the chef's table on Friday and Saturday nights, where diners can look into the kitchen and watch the chef prepare their dishes. Chef's Table seating available for groups of 2 or 4 and by reservation only.

 +1 206 251 7673

 www.spinasse.com/about/hours-and-location/

 1531 14th Avenue East, Seattle WA

 by eiko_eiko

ROTI Cuisine of India

"Spices from India's Hinterland"

An ethnically decorated dining room and a smiling staff meet the eye and enticing aromas set the mood for a casual dining affair at ROTI restaurant. Tucked on a restaurant stretch in the Lower Queen Anne neighborhood, this quaint restaurant is a perfect place to sample some of the tastiest and authentic Indian dishes like Tandoori Chicken, Malai Kabab, Prawn Vindaloo and Chicken Tikka Masala. Lunch is served buffet-style so come only after you've built up an appetite, for the food is filling and delicious at the same time.

 +1 206 216 7684

 rotirestaurantseattle.com/

 530 Queen Anne Avenue North, Seattle WA

Silence-Heart-Nest

"Fantastic Curries and Vegetarian Fare"

Run by the Sri Chinmoy Center, this pretty little restaurant adheres to the spiritual teachings of Sri Chinmoy, an Indian guru. Here you will find a peaceful oasis and good vegetarian food. Located in the heart of the University District, Silence-Heart-Nest features an international menu, but excels in its Indian dishes and chutneys. Waitresses wear traditional saris and soft Indian music plays in the background. After satisfying your appetite, you can delve deeper into the spiritual world by visiting the Journey's Dawn bookstore, also operated by the center.

+1 206 633 5169

www.silenceheartnest.com/

3508 Fremont Place North, Seattle WA

by GoDakshin

Chutneys Bistro

"Savory Authentic Dishes"

Located in tastefully renovated Wallingford Center, Chutneys Bistro is one of three Chutneys in Seattle. The interior is casual yet tasteful with Indian accents throughout. The crowd comes from the neighborhood and nearby University of Washington. Authentic tandoori dishes come from a traditional clay oven. Curries with chicken, lamb and shrimp are cooked to perfection. Kothmir Chicken, cooked in a coconut curry sauce, is excellent. The soft warm naan bread helps diffuse the spicy heat.

+1 206 634 1000

www.chutneysbistro.com/

1815 North 45th Street, Seattle WA

by SteFoul

Jewel of India Cuisine

"Indian Cuisine at its Best"

Jewel of India is located in the heart of the University District. Exuding a comfortable atmosphere, it serves some of the best and most exotic Indian food to entice your palate. Be it the sumptuous lunch buffet or the well put together dinner combinations, if good Indian food is what you are looking for, then this might be your best bet. Gorge on the maharajah dinner for a full meal which includes an appetizer, entree, dal, rice, naan, a non-alcoholic beverage and dessert or try their chicken curries, tandoori dishes and lamb creations. Vegans can sample the chole baturey, saag or masala dosa. Reasonably priced food served in generous portions is what makes this place a favorite.

+1 206 523 5275

www.jewelofindiacuisine.com/

4735 University Way Northeast, Seattle WA

by torus

Taste of India

"Indian Specialties"

Mohammed Arfan Bhatti, son of Mohammed Bhatti - the man behind Northgate's Saffron Grill, brings the same flair and passion for Indian cooking to University District. Taste of India is in fact, one of the best places in the area to experience a lovely ambiance and authentic Indian cuisine. On the menu you will find traditional specialties like Tandoori Chicken, Jaipur Masala, Coconut Curry and Tikka Masala. And those who've already dined at Saffron Grill will not be left feeling disappointed, as the same signature Mediterranean dishes are served here. Beer and wines complement the offerings as do the rich desserts. The overall experience certainly makes this restaurant worth a visit.

+1 206 528 1575

www.tasteofindiaseattle.com/home/index.html

arfanbhatti@gmail.com

5517 Roosevelt Way Northeast, Seattle WA

Bengal Tiger

"Chef Finds Home"

Chef Muhammad Uddin has put the considerable experience he gained at Moghul Palace and India Express to work in his own restaurant called the Bengal Tiger at the north end of the University District. Uddin works the tandoor oven with a gifted touch, with the chicken coming out juicy and hot. He also brought his mussel curry recipe from Moghul Palace, reputedly a favorite of Bill Gates. The samosas are also excellent.

by Pille-Riin Priske on Unsplash

+1 206 985 0041

www.bengaltigerwa.com/

6510 Roosevelt Way Northeast, Seattle WA

India Bistro

"Traditional Indian Cuisine"

The aromas alone will draw you into this richly colored restaurant called the India Bistro. The food is traditional Indian cuisine, which includes tandoori chicken, lamb, seafood, chutneys, Kashmiri chicken and more, all seasoned to your liking. Try the naan, which is a warm, soft flat bread, perfect for dousing the heat of spicy curry dishes. This smoke-free restaurant also has an outdoor dining area.

by Joegoaukfishcurry2

+1 206 783 5080

www.seattleindiabistro.com/

2301 Northwest Market Street, Seattle WA

Saffron Grill

"Best Indian Cuisine in Northgate"

No one can cook up an Indian and Mediterranean fusion as good as Mohammed Bhatti, and to experience some of the greatest dishes from his kitchen you will have to come down to Saffron Grill. Located in the Northgate tenement, this restaurant is easily recognizable with its vibrant red facade and is a local favorite. Be sure to try their signature dish, the famed butter chicken which is simmered in a rich tomato butter-cream-sauce. Other remarkable dishes on the menu include the traditional tikka masala, jaipuri masala and shish taouk. The dining experience is even more pleasurable thanks to the handpicked libations, perfect to wash down the flavorful and spicy entrees.

by brewbooks

+1 206 417 0707

www.saffrongrillseattle.com/saffrongrill/index.html

2132 North Northgate Way, Seattle WA

JOIN US AT:

cityseeker.com