

"Best Galleries in Denver"

Created by: Cityseeker

 3 Locations Bookmarked

 by Hans

William Havu Gallery

"Regional Artist Showcase"

The 1/1 Gallery on Wazee Street changed its name and location to the William Havu Gallery on Cherokee Street. The gallery occupies a building custom-constructed for the owner, William Havu. It features original works of contemporary art by regional artists including Ralph Steadman and John Ford. Although it generally sells paintings, it also displays a large number of sculptures. They also provide framing and gilding services. Check website for more.

 +1 303 893 2360

 www.williamhavugallery.com/

 info@williamhavugallery.com

 1040 Cherokee Street,
Denver CO

 by "Shutterstock on Unsplash" on Unsplash

Artwork Network

"Space for Art Exhibits"

Located on Santa Fe Drive, the Artwork Network is a popular haunt for art admirers as it is host to exhibitions of upcoming artists throughout the year. Not just for the professional artists, the gallery space serves as a perfect platform for amateur artists. Apart from hosting art exhibits, the 3000-square feet (279-square meter) space is also used for hosting private dinners and other events set against the backdrop of the rotating contemporary artworks.

 +1 303 388 7420

 www.artworknetwork.com

 hello@artworknetwork.com

 878 Santa Fe Drive, Suite 2,
Denver CO

 by Hans

Edge Gallery

"Art with a Heart"

Fitting in with northwest Denver's progressive art scene, the stark Edge Gallery is perfect for anyone interested in cutting-edge, mind-probing art. Because the gallery is non-profit, it can feature daring art that more mainstream galleries would never touch. Hence, it is an explosion of unique and at times, experimental work. You will find local, national and international artists in every medium including photography, sculpture and performance art. Call or check the website ahead for the calendar of new shows and exhibits, which change weekly.

 +1 303 477 7173

 edgeart.org/

 edgethegallery@gmail.com

 7001 West Colfax, Denver
CO

JOIN US AT:

cityseeker.com