The Acorn Restaurant

"Vegan Dishes and Craft Cocktails"

Declared as one of Canada's 10 Best New Restaurants on several lists when it was established in 2014, the Acorn is an absolute delight to dine at. Touted as the next big thing that has hit the vegetarian dining scene in Vancouver, the place offers a stylish menu that will surely attract vegetarians and meat-eaters alike. They also have a brunch menu that has proven to be quite a hit among its regular patrons. Apart from the food, another thing that really makes a mark here are their signature cocktails.

Nuba

"Authentic Lebanese Cuisine"

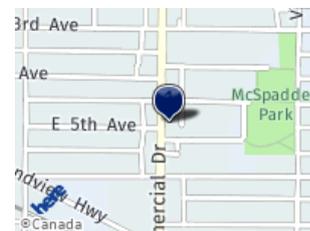

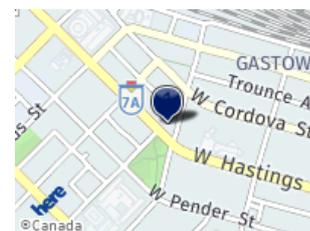

Inspired by the Beirut of the 1940s—when it was considered the "Paris of the Middle East"—Nuba offers some of the best ethnic eats around. Their crispy cauliflower tossed with lemon and sea salt made Vancouver Magazine's list of "101 Things to Eat Before you Die", and the vegetarian dishes are particularly noteworthy. Try a trio of Mediterranean dips with fresh pita—tzatziki, hummus, and eggplant dip—before moving on to heartier fare like the lamb kafta or the chicken tawook: local chicken marinated in Middle Eastern Spices. The Turkish coffee tiramisu is a standout choice for dessert. Nuba is also open for breakfast.

Cafe Deux Soleils

"Savory Delights"

Cafe Deux Soleils is popular with the local residents as a family joint. There are special tables laid out for children where they can play or put pieces of a puzzle together as they munch on their meal. The eatery is popular for its vegetarian preparations and brunches among other delicacies. Sip on a coffee as you attend a storytelling session or enjoy poetry slam at their literary events. The café regularly plays host to a number of live gigs ranging from acoustic, folk, and pop to Latin and other genres. A friendly staff and moderate prices further bolster the charm of the establishment.

The Naam

"Healthy Vegetarian Food"

If a vegetarian could spend eternity in Utopia, he or she would probably live at The Naam. Opened in 1968, this homey place in Kitsilano features live music, a private patio, and an extensive, healthy menu. Fulfill your veggie fantasies with items like Popeye Pita Pizza, complete with spinach, onions, feta and mushrooms. Sample ethnic specialties or old standards like veggie and tofu burgers. This hugely popular eatery does not accept reservations, so make sure you get there well before time.
