Cioppino's Mediterranean Grill & ENOTECA

"From Southern France to Northern Italy"

This award-winning restaurant impresses with classic Northern Italian and French cuisine. The elegantly rustic setting includes white linen tables, dark wood accents, post and beam ceilings, tiles, and warm-hued walls. An open kitchen displays chefs and a long bar highlights views of the docks beyond. Appetizers include the bourbon-honey smoked salmon and the charbroiled calamari salad is unique. Among the pasta selection: artichoke and goat cheese mezzelune with spring vegetable ragout. Main courses include seared scallops and jumbo prawns.

Chambar Belgian Restaurant

"For a Nice, Quiet Dinner"

Chambar is a stylish Belgian restaurant located in a quiet area on lower Beatty Street. It provides the perfect setting for a cozy, romantic dinner and the food adds to the charm of this place. Delectable delicacies like Coquille St. Jaques Et Jambon de Parma, which are pan-seared scallops, with walnut oil-tossed lentils and Moules-Frites-Congolaise, which are mussels cooked with fresh tomato and smoked chili, will leave you wanting more. As for the desserts, the Belgian Chocolate Mousse and the Hot Mocha Souffle are eternal favorites. Chambar is also known for its stock of Belgian beers, and some very interesting cocktails.

Cafe Medina

"Belgian Dining At Its Finest"

A brainchild of Chef Nico Schuermans, Medina is a perky cafe located Downtown. Having studied at CREPAC School of Culinary Arts in Belgium, Chef Schuermans puts his skills to good use and adds a Belgian flair to his preparations. The decor here is pretty simple, yet it has a stylish ambiance, with bright bulbs hanging from the ceiling and neatly lined tables. The menu here has delectable treats, with popular dishes like waffles and specialties like Les Boulettes, La Tartine and Roti de Boeuf, marinated beef balsamic style. The restaurant is a must-try for anyone looking for a change from the usual western flavors offered around the city.

Le Abattoir

"Chic French Dining at its Best"

Located in the historic Gastown District, Le Abattoir is as chic and trendy as they come. A French restaurant and lounge by nature, this establishment is housed in the site of a former jailhouse and now spins those once harsh brick walls and stark interiors as chic 19th Century decor. Refurbished wooden beams, steel finishes, natural wood accents, elevated dining room and sun soaked atrium, this restaurant is sure to make a great backdrop for a romantic evening on the town or after work cocktail hour with friends. And not to be outdone by the atmosphere, the French cuisine is simply divine.

The Old Spaghetti Factory

"Long-standing Italian Eatery"

Situated in one of the oldest parts of the city, The Old Spaghetti Factory has been catering to the food-loving people of Vancouver, ever since it was established in the 1970s. Needless to say, it is the food that has made this restaurant a favorite among the locals, who walk in here religiously to savor appetizers like Clam Chowder and Steamed Mussels, as well as well as the signature pastas. You can opt for tomato sauce, mushroom sauce, spicy meat sauce or clam sauce to be served with their specialty spaghetti dishes. The restaurant's historic charm is further accented by the decommissioned electric trolley at the center of the dining room, which is claimed by many to be haunted.

Sciué Italian Bakery Caffé - Pender

"Do As the Romans Do"

In Italian, Sciué means "good and fast", which pretty much sums up the philosophy behind this little Roman-style café. You'll find a lot more than just coffee here, though. Open during the daytime and catering to the local business crowd and tourists alike, Sciué offers up some of the best European pastries and breakfast panini you'll find anywhere. Lunch features a healthy variety of pastas and gnocchi, but the real draw here are the pizzas, which are sold by weight and garnished with the finest ingredients, from pancetta to sliced bocconcini to pesto chicken. You can contact Sciué Italian Bakery Caffé at +1 888 959 7263, for further information.

Simpatico

"Dining With Elegance"

One whiff of the aroma from this kitchen is enough to transport diners from the West Coast's rainy winter streets to the Greek Isle's sunny shorelines. This large Kitsilano restaurant has two dining floors with a rustic charm, and walls adorned with pictures of Greeks in traditional costumes. The blue-on-blue checkered tablecloths add a touch of the Mediterranean. Start with the Hummus and Pita appetizer, then move on to the Lamb Souvlaki or Moussaka for an entrée. Retsina is the beverage of choice here. Finish it off with a honeyed Baklava for dessert.
