Pane Bianco

"Wichcraft"

A part of celebrity chef Chris Bianco's collection of Italian eateries, Pane Bianco is more of a sandwich deli than a regular restaurant. Gourmet subs such as the Caprese made up of fresh mozzarella, basil and tomatoes or the Sopressata that has layers of salami and roasted peppers are simply divine. Check out their daily market specials which are just as unique and delicious. This makes a filling lunch though you can opt for salads or soups if you are not into sandwiches. The dinner menu is short consisting of small and large plates along with pizzas and antipasti. If you happen to visit Pane in between lunch and dinner, you can also relish their tasty bar bites. Check website for more.
