Ristorante Hamazaki

"Italian at its Best"

Ristorante Hamazaki is a private house restaurant that has gained popularity through word of mouth and exquisite Italian cuisine. It is extremely popular with gourmets and making a reservation is enduringly difficult. The chef buys many of his ingredients directly from the suppliers, ensuring an unrivalled freshness and quality. Ryuichi Hamazaki, the owner and chef, applies the principles of kaiseki to his antipasti, making for delicate, skillful, beautifully flavored cuisine. The pan-fried Iberico pork is meltily tender or try the ayu fish cake with endive and rocket. The atmosphere is warm and inviting and would make a perfect night out; just make sure you book well in advance.

Ristorante Il Buttero

"Taste of Tuscany"

Ristorante Il Buttero gives you a taste of Tuscany right in the middle of Tokyo. Having opened its doors in 1994, the restaurant follows Tuscan traditions not only in terms of food but also in the very style of the building with its Italian terracotta tiles. The beautiful building is surrounded by a quaint garden which is stunning during spring with the blooming of the cherry blossoms. The cuisine served here is authentic and delightful with a heavy bias on seafood dishes and a wine list which is worthy of a oenophile. With several different dining and event spaces, Ristorante Il Buttero is also available for hosting private parties, corporate events, wedding receptions and the like.
