Restaurant Sant Pau

"Michelin Starred Catalan Cuisine"

Chef Carme Ruscalleda brings her hometown of Catalonia to the midst of Tokyo with Sant Pau, a restaurant which has already earned three Michelin stars. Offering thoughtfully prepared prix fixe menus, the dishes at Sant Pau are meant to introduce the light flavors of the Mediterranean to diners through a seasonal menu. Tapas dining is available in the wine bar, which offers over 400 bottles of Spanish wine. The classy, contemporary setting of the restaurant with minimalist yet colorful accents is an addition to the pleasurable dining experience of the patrons.

Ventaglio

"Splendid Buffets"

Housed inside the stunning Mandarin Oriental, Ventaglio is a great place for exclusive and delicious Italian fare. The cuisine here is prepared using the freshest ingredients and organic vegetables, making this a favorite for health conscious patrons. Their lunch buffets are quite famous and with the kind of menu served why wouldn't it be? Apart from meals, Ventaglio also serves tea and coffee, and on weekends, dessert buffets are available. The ambiance is classy yet warm with fancy egg-shaped lamps, wooden furnishings and indoor trees. Nice for private parties, but be sure to reserve a table in advance.

Cicada

"Casual Mediterranean Dining"

A delightful place to enjoy Mediterranean cuisine, the Cicada is one of the best places for a fulfilling dining experience. Here, diners can choose to partake in delicious food and wine inspired by the cuisine of diverse countries throughout the Mediterranean region, including Spanish-inspired tapas, as well as rich meat dishes like roast lamb. The candlelit tables, striking blue seating and a cozy patio surrounded by trees create a perfect balance between an intimate and a vibrant setting. In addition, Cicada's unique offering of two large communal tables makes this a perfect place for those dining in groups, or those simply looking for a more social dining atmosphere.
