The Arthouse Hotel

"In the Name of Art"

What once used to be The School of Arts building has become one of the most favored party hangouts in Sydney. The art tradition however, stays intact not only in name but in spirit as well. Art is usually the dominant theme for most of the events that happen here. Culturally rich and aesthetically stimulating, one can understand why this place is so loved and celebrated. The Dome restaurant offering Modern Australian cuisine and Verge, a sociable and cheerful bar score some big extra points for Arthouse.

360 Bar and Dining

"Spectacular Sydney"

Sydney's skyline is an absolutely wondrous sight to behold, and combined with the chance to gorge on delicious Australian fare, makes for an unforgettable experience. This fantastic experience is exactly what awaits you at 360 Bar and Dining, a revolving restaurant that shows you many of Sydney's beautiful sights. The golden-shell bar at this restaurant is a sight in itself, and if you can ever stop admiring it, you could take your pick from an excellent wine and cocktail selection.

The Baxter Inn

"Wall of Whiskey!"

Although it is hidden away in a basement on Clarence Street, by no means is The Baxter Inn a quiet bar. Owned by the same pair responsible for the Shady Pines Saloon, this whiskey bar takes its inspiration from the Prohibition Era speakeasies. In keeping with the theme, you get a change from the usual bar music, being treated instead to tunes from the 1920s, enhanced by fantastic acoustics. That's just the beginning, though; the real winner is the wall of whiskey, which boasts over 300 varieties. The bartenders are more than willing to make suggestions, and will even hand you some complimentary pretzels while you wait for your order.

The Ivy

"Posh and Preen"

The ultra-modern, uber trendy luxe Ivy is the newest and hippest way to party in style. This upmarket CBD nightclub is a regular to the fashionistas and style-conscious crowds of Sydney and is anything but lame. Built on three massive levels and housing over eight bars in all, the chic and modern interiors, warm friendly staff and extravagant services that the place offers would make even the most hard-core party animal salivate at the mouth. Once inside get lost within the different areas, the lounge, courtyard, under the Japanese maple tree and any cozy spot that you can call your own. With places like these, who needs to look elsewhere for the entire month's schedule?

Shady Pines Saloon

"Wild West in the City"

Inner-city Sydney might not be the first place you'd look for a slice of the Wild West, but it's just what the owners of Shady Pines are offering. Hidden down an alley behind busy Oxford Street, with no signage, it may be a little hard to find, but the extra effort is worth it. Once inside you'll be instantly transported to a time and place far away. Stuffed animal heads look over a room full of simple wooden tables that would be perfect for a card game. Of course for the full experience, take your place on a stool at the bar and tackle one of the many whiskeys on offer.

Bulletin Place

"Rustic Appeal at Bulletin Place"

A small bar with a laid-back, unpretentious vibe, Bulletin Place is perfect for a relaxed night out. This is a bar that places a lot of emphasis on personalized service, and it certainly delivers. Wooden floors, communal tables, mural-adorned distressed walls and lots of potted plants lend this bar a rustic appeal, which, coupled with the service, makes for a wonderful experience. The handwritten chart of cocktails displays new names every day, and there is also a good selection of whiskeys and wines. Reservations are not accepted.

Icebergs Dining Room and Bar

"Iceberg Straight Ahead"

Dine with a fabulous view of Bondi Beach at Icebergs. This trendy restaurant and bar is the place to see and be seen! With main courses like Spaghetti with Clams and Zauchini Flowers, its tasty Mediterranean cuisine is a definite draw. You can hang out with a chilled cocktail at the trendy 1970s inspired bar, or sip on some wine as you enjoy the scenic surroundings. Icebergs can also be hired for exclusive events and private dining. Despite the name, this is one venue that is definitely hot!
