Brassaii

"Más Allá de las Expectativas"

El exterior de Brassaii consta de puertas de Hierro, un patio de ladrillo y un edificio industrial de 1904, por lo que no da ningún indicio de ser un restaurante elegante y de moda. Es difícil recomendar un plato específico, porque el menú cambia con frecuencia. Sin embargo, la excelencia en la cocina y el servicio es constante, y el precio es más bajo que la mayoría de sus competidores. Tiene una impresionante selección de vinos para acompañar la comida, y se recomienda dejar espacio para el postre. También, se aconseja volver y probar cosas nuevas.

Auberge du Pommier

"Classic and Romantic"

Located south of Highway 401 on Yonge Street, these two cottages have been transformed into one of the best restaurants in the city, specializing in French country dining. Auberge du Pommier was voted among the top 10 tables in Toronto by Gourmet magazine. From May to September, you can dine alfresco in a secluded terrace brimming over with flowers. Come winter, move inside to enjoy the wooden beams and stone fireplaces. Dishes include Rack of Lamb, Cream Sweet Corn Bisque and Smoked Breast of Capon. Indulge yourself in the impressive wine selection which consists mostly of French and Californian.
