Ronnie's Local 069

"Don't Let the Hipsters Scare You Away"

Ronnie's may just be the ultimate dive bar. Tiny and always full. This is a hot spot within Kensington Market. The crowd generally consists of the very hip, bike-riding, scarf-wearing, well-connected variety, but the relaxed atmosphere and affordable drinks are the reason to check it out. If you want to meet Toronto locals, this is the place to go. Things get a little cramped when it is busy, but everyone is friendly. The back room provides a little ambiance and romance, with paintings lining the walls and lighting that patrons can control with the dimmer, making it an excellent drink spot on a first date.

Horseshoe Tavern

"Blues en la Carretera"

Este es uno de los locales de música en vivo originales de la ciudad, y donde la leyenda de la canción canadiense Stompin' Tom actuó por primera vez, y aún hoy es el lugar para ver las mejores bandas country, punk, rock y grunge, en Horseshoe Tavern pasa de todo. El sistema de sonido es de primera calidad y los martes por la noche, la estación de radio local, The Edge, acoge una serie de música nuevo con los sonidos que se escuchan en la calle.

Betty's

"Toronto's Ultimate Dive Bar"

A preferred watering hole for locals as well as the students of the George Brown College, the Betty's comes across as a regular dive bar where you can sit down and indulge in beer drinking. Hence, the focus is on providing a casual setup where you can end up having a good time conversing with friends over a bottle of draft beer. The interior of the bar is cozy, however, it is the outdoor patio that is the main hangout spot for the regulars. As for the food, the pub offers a variety of delicacies in pizzas, sandwiches, wraps and appetizers to match it with your selection of one of the 29 draft beers listed on the menu. A perfect joint to host a private party, call or visit their website for more information.
