EdgeWalk at the CN Tower

"Walking on Air"

The thrilling EdgeWalk at the CN Tower is an adventure at 356 meters (1168 feet) from the ground on the principal pod of the world-famous CN Tower. Participants are taken 116 floors high and walk outside the landmark while attached via a harness to a safety rail above. With nothing but thin air between you and the ground far below, this activity is not for the faint-of-heart but if you're daring you're rewarded by a 360-degree view of the Toronto skyline from the very edge of the tower, in a way that you will never experience elsewhere. Guides always accompany participants and help them unleash their potential and break their own records. This activity is available seasonally.

Battle Sports Inc

"Novel Sports"

If you are looking for an adrenaline packed recreational sport activity, then Battle Sports Inc. is probably a good bet. Go berserk in Nerf Gun Arena where you can play a game of Dart of War. Or let your stress or frustration out by smashing things in the Rage Room. Check out their Archery Range and Archery Dodgeball if you want a more competitive edge in your games. Interactive, fun and exciting, it is a great place for the whole family to try something new.

"Safely Fly"

iFly Toronto lets you experience the thrill of flight without having to jump out of a plane. This indoor attraction provides the rush of skydiving without going more than a few feet off the ground by using an advanced wind tunnel. Feel like you're free-falling in a safe environment! Even children as young as 4 can experience this fun activity!
