Murrieta's Bar and Grill

"Best Bar in Beltline"

Known literally for its bar made of mahogany wood, Murrieta's Bar and Grill serves up good food alongside a wide choice of alcohol. It is a regular nightly haunt for the executives who drop by here from nearby downtown after work. The service is pretty decent and informal; only a really fussy customer might come up with a complaint. The live piano music at dinner time complements the setting of the restaurant perfectly. Don't expect noisy children here, since businessmen and other corporate types set the overall mood of the place.

The Embarcadero

"European Oyster & Wine Bar"

The Embarcadero Oyster & Wine Bar is one of first true oyster bars in Calgary. Embarcadero, which means wharf in Spanish, offers anywhere from nine to twelve fresh oyster varieties from the east and west coasts, and always has a featured oyster of the day. Housed in an old red brick house, the Embarcadero has a full menu—pastas, steaks, salads and sandwiches—and a large wine list of reds, champagne, sparkling, desserts, whites and even sake. Guests will delight in the warmth of the main lounge, while the dining room above offers a more formal take, complete with tablecloth and a self-contained bar.

Una Pizza + Wine

"Slice Of Life"

Standing tall among the sea of restaurants downtown, Una offers of an excellent selection of inspired pizzas in delightful thin-crust goodness and an exceptional wine list to go with it. A refreshing change from the standard pizza options dished out at many a pizzeria, the Mediterranean-inspired pizzas here have become an instant hit. By their own admission, there are no rules to the food and the chef makes sure that the results are delightful. Apart from pizzas itself, the menu comprises a selection of salads and other options. The wine list is exceptionally diverse and offers a great choice. The intimate interiors see a constant buzz and have a refreshing vibe about them. Seating is on a first-come basis without the possibility of reservations. Service is a pleasure and has received accolades from all quarters. Winner of several awards not only for its food, but also its service, Una is one of the best pizza places downtown.
