CommonWealth

Join the commonwealth of small plates at this gem of a restaurant that is a bit off the beaten path. It's small, with room for 12 tables, and though the plates are small too, they pack a punch. Commonwealth has garnered a reputation for its globally inspired menu and New American seafood creations, like grilled octopus and pink snapper carpaccio. Visitors note, if it looks like there isn't seating at the tables, the retro black glass counter has room for six.

Castaway Restaurant

"Beautiful Vistas of the City"

Castaway Restaurant, situated atop the hills of Burbank, offers an unparalleled dining experience to its guests. Rustic and elegant at once, soft and muted tones of beige, brown and grey dominate the dining hall area and the lovely floor to ceiling windows offer splendid views of the surrounding hills. Outside, a beautiful patio calls out to you to soak up some sun and treat your eyes to the panoramic views of the rest of the city. With their own dry-aging room and the dedication to serve you the highest quality beef, the menu has been crafted by Chef Perry Pollaci and are sure to engage all your senses at once. An extensive and elaborate wine list that includes more than 150 wines imported from different parts of the world will please the wine lover in you. An ideal place whether it be a romantic meal with your loved one or celebration of an event, Castaway Restaurant does not disappoint.
