Wokshow

"Authentic Dumplings in Prenzlauerberg"

Wokshow offers the standard array of Chinese dishes delivered with meticulous execution, and the dumplings are the main specialty. Order them in plates of 20 or 40, fried or steamed, meat or vegetarian. The decor inside is fairly unusual, with dark walls covered in enormous paintings of fantastical scenes from Chinese history, but it is comfortable, with a mix of large and small tables providing seating for couples or for larger groups. The service is good, and the dumplings are moderately priced.

China Restaurant Do De Li

"All About Chinese Dining!"

China Restaurant Do De Li may not have an exclusive view or lavish interiors, however its delectable menu makes up for it. Noodle soups and dishes like beef salad are spicier varieties, it also offers milder stuff like eggplant stew and different salads. The pickles and other sauces that are provided for on the table, when added to a soup or mains further enhance the dish. Certainly, Do De Li is a refreshing change from your typical Chinese take-out outlets and offers authentic Chinese dining experience to its patrons.
