The Roaring Fork

"Silences your Roaring Appetite"

This local favorite doesn't disappoint even the hungriest cowboy. Southwest favorites offered in huge portions are served with a bevy of libations to boot. Think saloon atmosphere with bistro fare but don't be fooled, the food packs a big punch. Try the green Chile mac and cheese or their ever-so-juicy 22oz bone-in ribeye, to make you remember why you love Texas cooking. Locals can't get enough of the oven baked kettle of green Chile pork stew. The mood here is just as lively as the food, thanks to tasty drinks like the Roaring margaritas and other specials.

Kebabicious

"Tasty Turkish Treats"

This food truck posts up at three different locations in Downtown Austin. This delicious European-Turkish food is found on street corners all over the world, why should Austin be any exception? Choose from chicken, beef or lamb shawarma, falafel, hummus or a Turkish salad. All kebabs are made fresh, and they stay open late, making for a perfect post-night out meal. If you can't find them on 7th Street, try their 2nd Street location.

Stubb's Bar-B-Q

"Relaxed Outdoor Barbeque"

Besides providing some of the best barbecue in town, Stubb's Bar-B-Q has a huge outdoor venue that can host rock concerts. A brainchild of Christopher B. Stubblefield, the original Stubb's Bar-B-Q was set up in Lubbock; when it shut its doors this Red River location kept up the Stubb tradition of providing delicious barbecued meat, chilled beer and rocking music. Family platters are also served here. Come early to get a bite to eat, then stay and watch the shows.

Güero's Taco Bar

"Viva Mexico!"

All restaurants could do with a famous patron, but the owners of Güero's Taco Bar proudly have a whole heap to choose from. The restaurant has a couple of dining rooms, one of which is built around the kitchen, giving it a very homely feel, and the outdoor bar is especially popular anytime the weather is nice (which is often). Check out the fish taco and the queso flameado, or the breakfast tacos. Don't forget to chug down the famous margaritas made with fresh lime juice or have a shot of first-class tequila.

Bouldin Creek Coffee House

"Despertarse y Sentir Aroma a Café"

Quienes piensan que Bouldin Creek Coffee House sirve sólo café y desayuno están equivocados. Boulder Creek sirve desayuno, almuerzo y cena, pero el menú es estrictamente vegetariano. En cuanto a las bebidas, hay que probar el 'chai latte' y la limonada de miel. Leslie Martin, el propietario, ofrece el mejor menú multicultural a precios razonables.

Matt's El Rancho

"Popular Tex-Mex"

This very popular South Austin restaurant has been serving Tex-Mex food since 1952. Matt's El Rancho is a family-owned business that boasts its delicious food and attentive service. Here you will discover all of the familiar favorites, including enchiladas, tamales, fajitas and a satisfying queso dip as a starter. You will also find slightly more imaginative dishes, such as the Garlic Grilled Shrimp. The cheque won't be too heavy on your pocket either.

Fonda San Miguel

"Cocina Mexicana Colonial"

Al entrar a este restaurante de estilo campestre es posible sentirse como si viajara al sur, ya que cuenta con decoración mexicana, y además sirven buena comida en un ambiente colonial encantador. El Chef Roberto Sabatinez le ha agregado sus propios platos novedosos a la carta, que ya contaba con viejos favoritos, incluyendo un creativo Chile Relleno, que lleva un chile ancho en lugar del usual poblano. Los platos tradicionales están muy bien preparados y los postres van más allá del flan que generalmente se ofrece en muchos restaurantes mexicanos. No hay que perderse el brunch, sobre todo para los amantes de la costumbre mexicana de darle mucha importancia a dicha comida.
