Giant Shoe Museum

"Strange and Intriguing Museum"

Housing some of the world's biggest shoes, the Giant Shoe Museum, located at the Old Seattle Paperworks shop, is a flamboyant museum which resembles a mini carnival with its circus shoe theme entrance and vibrant colors and banners hanging across the store. The wall on its west end holds some of the largest shoes you would ever see, including the wingtip shoes belonging to Robert Wadlow, who was known as the world's tallest man. A stop here is sure to liven up your day.

Center for Wooden Boats

"Flotar en un Barco de Estilo Antiguo"

Las exposiciones en el Center for Wooden Boats no se ocultan detrás de un cristal. Por el contrario, los barcos de madera que conforman este museo están afuera, en el agua, esperando ser tocados y embarcados. Más de 100 barcos históricos están atracados aquí y se puede subir a bordo y aprender de todo sobre la historia ya que cuentan con personal bien informado y amables voluntarios. Aquí se pueden encontrar a los artesanos mientras restauran los clásicos barcos de madera. Se puede preguntar. Quién sabe, puede que quiera ser voluntario usted mismo. La entrada es gratuita y se aceptan donaciones.
