Nobu

"Japanese Fusion"

Nobu is a popular Japanese fusion restaurant located inside of the Hard Rock Hotel in the Gaslamp Quarter. Matching nicely with its Asian fusion cuisine, Nobu stays in theme with its decor, blending different elements of Asia into a modern, sleek design. Service is prompt, attentive and friendly. The ambiance is lively and energetic. The food plays off of Nobu's other elements perfectly, serving as the grand crescendo of the evening. Dishes include Japanese classics like sushi, tempura and miso soup, while fusion dishes include Nobu's rendition of fish 'n chips and beef tenderloin.

Sushi Ota

"Sushi sublime"

El hecho de que Sushi Ota siempre esté repleto de gente dice todo lo que uno necesita saber sobre la calidad del pescado y de las demás exquisiteces asiáticas que conforman la carta. No se pierdan del Especial para la Cena del Chef Omikasa, que cambia todos los días pero que siempre ofrece calidad, cantidad y buen precio. Además de la selección de pescado crudo, también podrá disfrutar Sukiyaki, Yakitori y otras entradas cocidas de la tierra del sol naciente. El personal del restaurante es muy amable y sobre todo paciente si es la primera vez que come sushi, y siempre está dispuesto a hacer sugerencias y recomendaciones para que disfrute de la comida.

Jasmine Seafood Restaurant

"Hong Kong Flavor"

In the heart of San Diego's Asian business district, restaurants here face tough competition and a clientele who knows the food. Jasmine Seafood Restaurant easily outdoes its competition and keeps its largely Asian client base coming back for more. Dozens of brunch time Dim Sum items delight the palate, and the live seafood is as fresh as it can get. The restaurant also offers traditional Chinese dishes, many reflecting the Hong Kong/Guangdong origins of the owners.
