Casa de Soba y Sushi Tei-An

"Verdadera cocina japonesa"

Dallas constantemente recibe más y más creaciones culinarias, pero no es muy frecuente que lleguen cosas nuevas y únicas. Tei-An es único porque se enfoca principalmente en los fideos japoneses de trigo sarraceno, o fideos soba. El espacio, tan zen y relajante, los incita a comenzar su experiencia gastronómica con sake y bocadillos, como pescado en vinagre y filetes de botarga. Como plato principal, ordene unos fideos soba, que se preparan en el momento y se sirven fríos o calientes, y con una gran variedad de acompañamientos y salsas.

S&D Oyster Company

"Upscale Seafood Restaurant"

Herb Story's Navy service based off the Gulf Coast left him craving delicious seafood that he found unmatched on moving to Dallas. This led to the opening of S&D with his wife, Mary Kay, that has been serving mouth-watering seafood since 1976. The restaurant is a good bet for anyone exploring the McKinney Avenue scene. With an underlying maritime decor, the place is often crowded but aims to take good care of its generation-spanning patrons. The energetic and knowledgeable service keeps things moving. The menu specializes in fresh raw oysters, gumbo, broiled or fried snapper filet, flounder and New Orleans barbeque shrimp. Aside from the scrumptious coastal fare exclusively sourced from the Gulf, complete your meal with a special dessert. Bread pudding with whiskey sauce, anyone?

Cafe Pacific

"Splendid Seafood in Highland Park"

A classic steak and seafood house with beautiful architecture, Cafe Pacific looks like it should be in Boston. Located in historic Highland Park Village, you'll find elegant dining in a picturesque, upscale shopping village. It's a splendid place for special occasions or business dinners. Lobster is a specialty here, but so are a variety of steak dishes. Daily seafood specials are always a worthwhile detour from the norm.

The Oceanaire Seafood Room

"A Visit to the Sea!"

If you are looking to blow a bundle on the finest seafood money can buy, The Oceanaire is the place to go. From the more common dishes like the Gulf of Mexico Red Snapper and Live Maine Lobsters, to the truly exotic Whole Dover Sole and Sea of Cortez 1 Bluefin Tuna, this upscale restaurant has it all. With a menu like this, you cannot help but leave satisfied. Nothing but the freshest of ingredients go into the making of your meal, so when they say that the tuna they are serving you today may have been swimming the day before, they're not kidding!
