Riverdale Farm

"The Country Life"

Riverdale Farm is a place that will have you experiencing the country life, even while you're still in the city. This attraction is open for visitors everyday, and features expansive farms that are lined with woods and small water features. The farm was built on a former zoo site, and one can visit farm animals such as ducks, goats, pigs and sheep now, instead of wild animals. The historic barn on the farm must be visited, and the farm grounds are often the venue for local cultural events as well.

Toronto Dominion Gallery of Inuit Art

"Expression of a Culture"

The Toronto Dominion Bank has been collecting artwork from Canada's Inuit people from the Arctic region since the mid-1960s. That collection has grown considerably over time and is now housed in its own gallery in the Aetna Tower of the Toronto Dominion Centre, which opened in 1987. The permanent collection now consists of more than 200 pieces, encompassing artistic styles from all over Canada's vast Arctic territory.

There are an estimated 10,000 visitors each year. Admission is free.

Woodbine Beach

"Beach In The City"

Woodbine Beach is located in east Toronto, and it is probably one of the best beaches in the city. Due to the beach's distance from Downtown Toronto, Woodbine Beach is less crowded than other Toronto water attractions. You can jog along the waterside, play a game of beach volleyball, fly a kite, simply relax in the sun, and of course, go swimming.

Leslie Street Spit

"Vacation In The City"

Leslie Street Spit is a man-made wilderness that will make it hard for you to believe that you're still in the city. Located in Toronto, Ontario, this headland was built as an outer harbor for ships docking in from the Great Lakes, but it was never used. So it is now used as a recreation spot and features a beautiful hiking and biking trail lined with trees and flowers. The park also presents one with a great bird-watching opportunity as the area is the breeding ground for several species of birds such as the Black-crowned Night-heron and the Caspian tern. Throughout the trail, one can enjoy stunning views of the Toronto skyline at one side and the Lake Superior at the other.

Falaises de Scarborough

"De magnifiques falaises"

Forgées par les éléments au fil de plusieurs millénaires, les falaises de Scarborough s'élèvent depuis la rive du lac Ontario, à l'Est de Toronto. La paroi de cet escarpement constitue une caractéristique déterminante du littoral, atteignant jusqu'à 90 mètres au-dessus de la rive. Plusieurs parcs parsèment l'étendue de 15 kilomètres des falaises de Scarborough qui semblent tracer le bord du lac. Tandis que la plupart de ces parcs se trouvent perchés sur ses sommets, quelques-uns donnent accès à la plage étroite située à sa base. La vue depuis le sommet est pleine de beauté, tout comme c'est le cas un peu plus bas avec la face rocheuse qui s'élève au-dessus de l'eau tranquille.

Guildwood Park

"Park With Historic Features"

Guildwood Park, located in Downtown Toronto is a park that is of historic significance, since it contains a number of old structures on its premises. One can find a cabin that dates back to the late 1700s on the grounds, and the craftsman residence colony here was built in 1914. The park also has several statues and sculptures lining its paths, along with pleasant walking trails that make for a relaxing experience. Visit for an early morning jog or an evening stroll.
