

"Best Fine Art in Toronto"

Créé par: Cityseeker

📍 6 Emplacements marqués

📷 by Public Domain ©

Mayberry Fine Art

"Both Traditional and Modern Art"

Founded in 1975 in historic Yorkville, Hollander York Gallery features some of Canada's most interesting traditional and modern artists, names such as Rose-Aimee Belanger, Victoria Block, Bruno Cote and Hugh Cunningham. Its impressive choice of paintings, sculptures and limited edition prints draws visitors and customers from far and wide. Located in the heart of the city's historic Yorkville, the gallery offers a superb selection of paintings, sculptures, and limited edition prints. Call ahead for more details.

☎ +1 416 923 9275

🌐 www.bloor-yorkville.com/Directory/Art-Galleries.aspx?s=2344

✉ toronto@mayberryfineart.com

📍 110 Yorkville Avenue, Toronto ON

📷 by Smart Destinations ©

Gardiner Museum

"One of a Kind"

An internationally renowned collection that ranges from 5,000-year-old pre-Columbian artifacts to 20th-century works from around the world makes Gardiner Museum one-of-a-kind in North America. The museum, located across from the Royal Ontario Museum and the University of Toronto campus, also features a boutique. Check out the Gardiner Shop, with contemporary Canadian works including books on ceramics to jewelry and bowls. Guided tours for groups can also be arranged.

☎ +1 416 586 8080

🌐 www.gardinermuseum.on.ca

✉ mail@gardinermuseum.on.ca

📍 111 Queen's Park, Toronto ON

📷 by DGriebeling ©

Galerie d'art de l'Ontario

"Groupe des sept exclusif"

Nouvelle et restaurée, la Galerie d'art de l'Ontario abrite des collections permanentes d'art sous différentes formes, notamment des tableaux, des sculptures et des artefacts historiques. Ce musée situé dans le quartier de Chinatown est l'un des plus grands musées de beaux-arts du Canada. Vous pourrez y admirer les œuvres d'artistes impressionnistes du XIXe siècle tels que Henry Moore, ainsi qu'une collection canadienne exclusive de tableaux du célèbre Groupe des sept. Au total, sa collection permanente compte plus de 24 000 œuvres représentant 1 000 d'art européen, canadien et contemporain. Les installations incluent une boutique de cadeaux, un restaurant et un centre d'activités axé sur les familles.

☎ +1 416 979 6688

🌐 www.ago.net/

📍 317 Dundas Street West, Toronto ON

by eddy_ ©

Open Studio

"Preserving Fine Prints"

The Open Studio is an art initiative that aims at the promotion of new talent, especially those involved in fine art prints. Their gallery is more like a studio space and warehouse for these artists, with the entire space bathed in natural light, making the artwork look even more stunning than it already is. Group tours of the entire facility are available, however one must call ahead and make a reservation for these tours. Several workshops and classes are also held at the studio from time to time.

+1 416 504 8238

www.openstudio.on.ca/

office@openstudio.on.ca

401 Richmond Street West,
Suite 104, Toronto ON

by Public Domain ©

Petroff Gallery

"Arts And Gifts"

The Petroff Gallery makes for a stunning exhibition space that displays the works of contemporary artists, featuring photography, painting, sculpture, ceramic and glass creations. The gallery displays the works of both local and internationally renowned artists, some of which include David Calles, John McDonald, Rod Prouse, Chris Albert, Rudy Kehkla among several others. They have a jewelry section as well that showcases stunning pieces of handmade jewelry, along with a Judaica section that displays designer gift items for Jewish ceremonies.

+1 416 782 1696

petroffgallery.com/

info@petroffgallery.com

1016 Eglinton Avenue West, Toronto ON

by JohnOyston ©

Aga Khan Museum

"Spanning Islamic History"

This expansive, 31,000 square foot museum focuses solely on Islamic art throughout the ages. Spanning over 1000 years of history, the Aga Khan Museum contains numerous artifacts like textiles, ceramics, glass and paintings that showcase the development of Muslim civilizations. Designed by an award winning architect, the museum's building features a gorgeous design with a large theater, open courtyard, classrooms, exhibit galleries and even a park with lush landscaping. Exhibitions are temporary and display emerging Muslim themes, and new artistic developments.

+1 416 646 4677

www.agakhanmuseum.org/

information@agakhanmuseum.org

77 Wynford Drive, Toronto
ON

REJOIGNEZ-NOUS A:

cityseeker.com