

"Top Things To Do in Kansas City"

Once a bustling supply stop for settlers heading West, Kansas City is a booming mid-western metropolis known for its outstanding barbecue, swinging jazz music and its numerous fountains. Missouri's largest city is also known for its scenic downtown, its historic market, and its casino culture.

Créé par: Cityseeker

📍 10 Emplacements marqués

📷 by National WWI Museum ©

National World War I Museum and Memorial

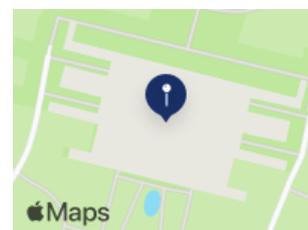

"World War One Memorials"

A stirring commemoration to those who fought in World War I, the solemn Liberty Memorial forms an integral part of Kansas City's dynamic skyline. Built in the year 1926 to honor those Americans who lost their lives during World War I, this towering memorial is skirted by other nationally and historically-significant sites like the Memory Hall and Exhibition Hall. It was funded entirely through private donations and it is the only commissioned memorial of its kind in the country that honors the 'Great War'. As dusk falls, the top of the tower is lit brightly, towering over Kansas City's urbane landscape. The memorial is home to the National WWI Museum, the official U.S. museum that contains the tanks, guns, memorabilia and interactive exhibits which display the nuances of the early 20th Century warfare.

📞 +1 816 888 8100

🌐 theworldwar.org/

📍 100 Memorial Drive, Kansas City MO

📷 by User:Charvex ©

The Nelson-Atkins Museum of Art

"Renowned Art Museum"

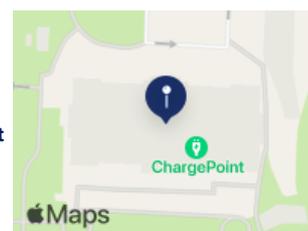

This artistic wonderland is housed in a splendid neoclassical structure that looks like it is a piece of work in itself. The collections of American and European art contain masterpieces from the most prominent schools and periods, from artists such as Homer, Caravaggio, Monet, Titian, Rodin, Renoir and hundreds of others. Popular displays at the museum include the Chinese Temple Room, a sealed Egyptian tomb and an outdoor sculpture garden. A cafe and gift shop are also on-site. Admission is free.

📞 +1 816 751 1278

🌐 www.nelson-atkins.org

✉ press@nelson-atkins.org

📍 4525 Oak Street, Kansas City MO

📷 by Daderot ©

Arabia Steamboat Museum

"Sunken Treasure"

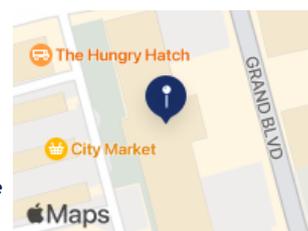

Located along Grand Boulevard in downtown Kansas City, the Arabia Steamboat Museum recounts the story of the Arabia, a steamboat that sank in 1886. When it sank, there were only parts and pieces that could be salvaged, however, these remnants and artifact are now displayed here. The museum claims to have the largest amount of pre-Civil War artifacts in the entire world. It is a great museum for all ages and is sure to captivate adults as well as children alike.

📞 +1 816 471 1856

🌐 www.1856.com/

✉ david.hawley@1856.com

📍 400 Grand Boulevard, Kansas City MO

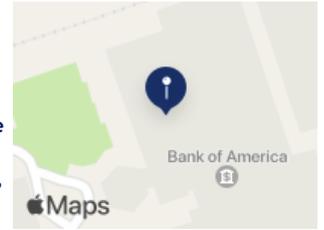

by KellyK

Science City

"Explore Science with Mom & Dad"

This interactive museum provides educational entertainment for the entire family. Located in Union Station, the newly created Science City provides interactive displays where visitors learn about astronaut training, weather, history and other scientific phenomena. Divided into five sections, each with a different theme, the museum provides hands-on interactivity for children of all ages, proving that learning about science can be fun, as well as educational. The new City Nights Theater and the overnight 'camps' only add to the experience.

+1 816 460 2020

www.unionstation.org/sciencecity

visitor@unionstation.org

30 West Pershing Road, Kansas City MO

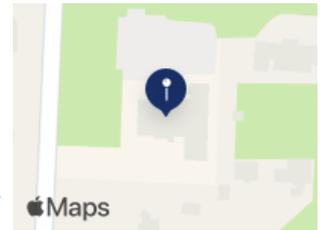

by Nightryder84

The National Museum of Toys / Miniatures

"Toy & Doll Exhibits Galore"

This is a must-see for children and the young-at-heart. Located near the Country Club Plaza on the University of Missouri-Kansas City campus, this museum features a collection of antique toys, built-to-scale miniatures, antique dolls, doll houses, farm toys and teaching kitchens. They recently added a new room to feature the worlds most complete marble collection, donated by Larry and Cathy Runyan-Svacina. The museum was founded in 1982 by two women who wanted to share their toy collections with the general public. Adults will especially enjoy the miniature displays, which fascinate and inspire.

+1 816 235 8000

www.umkc.edu/tmm

info@toyandminiaturemuseum.org

5235 Oak Street, University of Missouri-Kansas City; Volker Campus, Kansas City MO

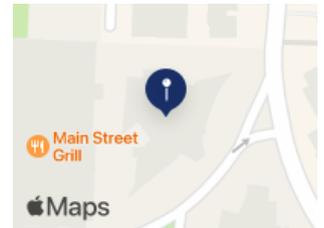

by User:Charvex

Kemper Museum of Contemporary Art

"Art for All Senses"

Since its opening in the Fall of 1994, over the last two decades the Kemper Museum has become one of the most respected galleries in the region. The permanent collection donated by Bebe and Crosby Kemper features contemporary artwork and some of the artists include the famous glassblower Dale Chihuly, Georgia O'Keefe, Andrew Wyeth and Robert Mapplethorpe, just to name a few. Some temporary exhibits have featured a complete retrospective by fashion photographer, Herb Ritts and a moving AIDS tribute by Robert Juarez. The building merits attention also, it has plenty of nooks and crannies that are interspersed alongside two elongated wings, which makes the structure appear like a bird in flight.

+1 816 753 5784

www.kemperart.org/

4420 Warwick Boulevard, Kansas City MO

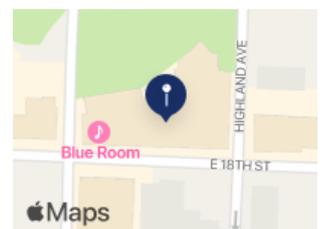

by Jordano53

American Jazz Museum

"History of Jazz Music"

This impressive museum pays tribute to the music and performers within the inimitable American art form jazz. The history of this music is told through interactive exhibits where you can listen to performances, watch videos and learn more about the greatest jazz musicians, from those perennial favourites Dizzy and Miles to those lesser-known cats like Horace Peterson and Tony Williams. Visitors will also learn about the history of African-American artists in local Kansas City lore and their many contributions to the community. The museum, which adjoins the Negro Leagues Baseball Museum, rents its stage for special events and group tours are available.

+1 816 474 8463

americanjazzmuseum.org/ info@kcjazz.org

1616 East 18th Street, Kansas City MO

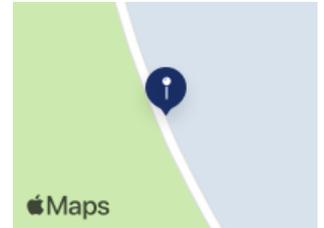

by User:Charvex

Airline History Museum

"Historical Aircraft Display"

Take a trip back in flight-time with a visit to this museum that celebrates aviation history. It is located inside a hanger at the old Downtown Airport and visitors can see airplanes, photos, audio/video productions, artifacts, logbooks, uniforms and other items that illustrate the grace of propeller-driven travel. Individuals who lived and worked among the aircraft during their glory days sometimes lead informative and entertaining tours. Groups of ten or more must call ahead to reserve one.

+1 816 421 3401

www.airlinehistory.org/

201 North West Lou Holland D, Kansas City MO

by stannate

Kansas City Zoo

"Zoo with 1,350 animals"

The sprawling Kansas City Zoo, which attracts close to 700,000 visitors annually, is divided into sections named for areas of the world, from Africa and Australia to Farmland USA. Visitors can walk the 202-acre (88 hectares) park or ride trams from one place to another. There is also a guided train tour that allows guests to see park highlights without the fatigue.

+1 816 595 1234

www.kansascityzoo.org askthezoo@fotzkc.org

6700 Zoo Drive, Swope Park, Kansas City MO

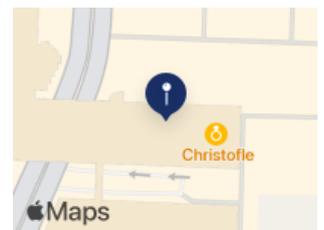

by Rick Mason on Unsplash

Legoland Discovery Center

"Creative Amusement Park"

Step into a world of creativity and fun at Legoland Discovery Center. This amusement park is especially made for children and the child-friendly attractions reflect just that! Go on the interactive Kingdom Quest ride or build whatever type of vehicle you can imagine at the Lego Racers: Build & Test attraction. You can even watch a show in the 4D cinema. No trip to Legoland Discovery Center is complete without seeing important landmarks made miniature at Miniland.

+1 816 471 4386

www.legolanddiscoverycenter.com/kansas-city/ KansasCity@legolanddiscoverycenter.com

2475 Grand Boulevard, Kansas City MO

REJOIGNEZ-NOUS A:

cityseeker.com