Les Ambassadeurs Club

"London's Classiest"

Les Ambassadeurs Club could easily be the classiest entertainment venue in the city of London. This gaming club has acquired a fantastic reputation, and has even made its way onto the silver screen with movies like A Hard Day's Night and Dr. No. Being a member here really has its perks, for everything, from the gaming room to the restaurant and bar, is top-notch. There is also a separate outdoor gaming area where smokers can light up without having to take a break from the game. Membership also brings with it concierge services that take care of all your needs, right from game tickets to discounted room rates at hotels like the London Hilton on Park Lane and The Halkin.
