McSorley's Old Ale House

"Une institution depuis 1854"

C'est un point de repère du village de l'est qui s'est ouvert en 1854, ainsi que le bar le plus vieux de Manhattan. McSorley's propose deux genres de la bière : McSorley's Légère et McSorley's Brune. Il y a la sciure de bois par terre, et sur les murs vous verrez des photos, du bric-à-brac historiques, et des anciens articles de presse. Pendant la semaine c'est un endroit confortable où prendre un verre. Pendant le week-end, il y a une queue très longue des touristes et d'étudiants. McSorley's n'a pas permis l'entrée aux femmes jusqu'aux années 1970, et aujourd'hui il est toujours rempli essentiellement des hommes.

PDT (Please Don't Tell)

"Shhh! Don't Tell Anyone"

PDT (which stands for Please Don't Tell) is a "secret" bar on St. Mark's Place. A call from a phone booth in Crif Dogs (the adjacent restaurant) is the only way to get in. Once accepted, a secret door opens up in the phone booth, leading to PDT. It's not much of a secret anymore though, because the club is hugely popular. Once inside, you'll find a crowded bar area steeped in darkness. The inventive cocktail selection is superb and a major draw. If you're hungry you can also order from the Crif Dogs food menu, which gets delivered to the club via a small pass. The friendly staff will give you great recommendations and ensure that you get the best deal. A visit to PDT is quite an interesting experience indeed.

Rudy's Bar & Grill

"Zone où traîner"

C'est un bar très populaire parmi les jeunes ainsi que les plus âgés. Le choc initial lorsque vous entrerez disparaîtra dès que vous commencez à vous mêler à la foule des danseurs, musiciens, hommes d'affaires, et des gens basanés de Times Square. Le personnel ne perd pas de temps à vous servir votre demi. Mais même si Rudy's n'est pas très élégant, il est aimable et chaleureux. Des touristes souvent y trouvent du confort parmi les verres bon marchés et le cadre sans prétention.
