Le Diplomate

"Classic French"

Le Diplomate brings a piece of France to Washington DC. The restaurant brings to mind a quaint, French cafe, with all the offerings of one to boot - imagine lounging around on a lazy Sunday, munching on a warm croissant while sipping on some coffee. For brunch, the menu ranges from dishes such as Eggs Benedict to Eggs en Cocotte. During lunch, try the French onion soup and Croque-Madam - a sandwich consisting of grilled ham, fried egg and rosemary aioli. And for dinner, don't miss out on the steak au poivre, a steak garnished with garlic spinach.

Lauriol Plaza

"Un favori animé"

C'est un restaurant festif et bien aimé par les gens du coin depuis des années. Il a récemment déménagé afin d'être plus près de Dupont Circle, et il a maintenant une terrasse au toit pour que vous y puissiez dîner al fresco. La salle à manger ressemble à un café intime. Le décor est simple avec des murs blancs, des nappes blanches, et des peintures dans des cadres dorés. On y mélange des traditions espagnoles, mexicains, et tex-mex afin de créer un menu plein de fajitas et des entrées grillés. Des paellas classiques et des plats au porc marinés y sont aussi délicieux.

Il Canale

"Delectable Italian"

Il Canale is your quintessential Neapolitan pizzeria. Nestled in Georgetown, this restaurant serves delectable cuisine from the southern regions of Italy. The restaurant offers authentic Neapolitan pizzas, made of thin crust topped with tomatoes from San Marzano and mozzarella along with the usual herbs and sauces. Freshly prepared, these thin-crust pies are made using a wood-fired oven imported from Italy. Guests can enjoy the rooftop deck when the weather is nice and take in the serene view of the C&O Canal. If you are lucky enough, you might even spot a celebrity from Tinseltown.
