Young Augustine's

"Drink & Be Merry"

This newly reincarnated Grant Park pub (formerly The Standard) is named for St. Augustine of Hippo who as a young man once said, God grant me chastity and temperance, but not just yet. In keeping with the happy-go-lucky nature of the famed saint, Young Augustine's offers 27 beers on tap. Even the most discriminating beer snob will feel right at home here. The eclectic menu offers a variety of snacks, plates and not snacks at all. Favorites include the smoked wings, duck fries, short rib grilled cheese and pork vindaloo. The pub has plenty of outdoor dining space and two bocce ball courts - perfect for late night revelry.

The Local

"Local Favorite"

The Local, located in Poncey-Highlands, is your quintessential neighborhood dive. This non-smoking bar has been a gathering spot for the community for years. Enjoy a chilled pint or premium spirits out on their patio, or the occasional karaoke nights indoors. Smoked wings, pulled pork sandwich and cheese pretzel are some of the delicious fare on offer. Great prices, hands-on service and a laid-back vibe make it a local favorite.

JCT Kitchen & Bar

"Comfort Cooking"

JCT Kitchen & Bar brings a contemporary feel to Southern dining. Although they offer classics like the deviled eggs, fried chicken, and shrimp and grits, the ambiance is more like an upscale eatery than your grandma's kitchen. The bar upstairs plays host to private events, but is sometimes open to the public with live music. The bar serves up delicious cocktails that are too good to pass up.

Ray's on the River

"Romantic Tranquility"

Don't let the casual name fool you, Ray's on the River is a contemporary and romantic destination restaurant on the banks of the Chattahoochee River in Sandy Springs. The low, sprawling building hugs the shoreline of Georgia's longest river, providing exquisite views from much of the dining room. Famous for fresh seafood and hickory grilled steaks and chops, Ray's is also a local cocktail hour and Sunday brunch institution. A romantic patio provides alfresco dining in fair weather, live music, and excellent cuisine. See website for menu and live music schedule.
