Young Augustine's

"Drink & Be Merry"

This newly reincarnated Grant Park pub (formerly The Standard) is named for St. Augustine of Hippo who as a young man once said, God grant me chastity and temperance, but not just yet. In keeping with the happy-go-lucky nature of the famed saint, Young Augustine's offers 27 beers on tap. Even the most discriminating beer snob will feel right at home here. The eclectic menu offers a variety of snacks, plates and not snacks at all. Favorites include the smoked wings, duck fries, short rib grilled cheese and pork vindaloo. The pub has plenty of outdoor dining space and two bocce ball courts - perfect for late night revelry.

The Local

"Local Favorite"

An aptly named bar, The Local is your quintessential neighborhood dive. Located in Poncey-Highlands, this non-smoking bar has been a gathering spot for the community for years. Enjoy a chilled pint or premium spirits while sitting out on their patio or the occasional karaoke night indoors. Smoked wings, pulled pork sandwiches, a basket of fries, and cheese pretzels are some delicious fare offered here. Great prices, hands-on service, a laid-back vibe, and affordable prices make it a local favorite.

Ray's on the River

"Romantic Tranquility"

Don't let the casual name fool you, Ray's on the River is a contemporary and romantic destination restaurant on the banks of the Chattahoochee River in Sandy Springs. The low, sprawling building hugs the shoreline of Georgia's longest river, providing exquisite views from much of the dining room. Famous for fresh seafood and hickory grilled steaks and chops, Ray's is also a local cocktail hour and Sunday brunch institution. A romantic patio provides alfresco dining in fair weather, live music, and excellent cuisine. See website for menu and live music schedule.
