Capitol Grille

"Elegant Dining Near the State Capitol"

Capitol Grille is one of the area's finest dining establishments. Special touches include fine linens, candles, crystal and fine china. The quality of food and the exceptional service puts this restaurant in a class of its own. The extensive menu is classic American with a bit of Asian and Cajun influence. Unusual side dishes, such as eggplant fries, and cheese grits add pizzazz to the entrees. True adventure seekers should try the "Dinner on the Edge" menu, offering unique dishes at each course, paired with an accompanying wine.

Wildhorse Saloon

"City's Biggest Dance Hall"

This is "the" place to kick your spurs up in Music City. The dance floor is the largest in Nashville, and the music and dancing are virtually nonstop. If showing off your moves makes you hungry, the kitchen offers a full lunch and dinner menu and the bar serves up frosty mugs of your favorite imported and domestic brews. This place is perfect for a night out with friends, a birthday party or for "boot-scootin'" with your sweetheart.

South Street

"Creole Kitchen"

South Street is one of Nashville's best spots for fresh seafood, delicious steaks, and dazzling drinks. This casual-yet-classy spot specializes in barbecue, crab and oysters, and other classic Southern comfort foods. South Street also houses a self-proclaimed dive bar, that stays open - and busy - until midnight and beyond.

Rotier's Restaurant

"Meat & Veggies Paradise"

Traditions do not come easy in this town, but some things never change. Take the menu: it is a standard "meat and three", a term given to restaurants serving a meat entree and three vegetables. However, Rotier's delicious southern-style cooking sets it apart from the other buffet offerings around town. Fresh baked cornbread and dinner rolls accompany every meal. If you are really adventurous, try a burger. It may be high-calorie, but you can always put the diet away and enjoy this tasty delight once in a while!

Dos Margaritas

"Tres Locations for Delicious Mexican"

Dos Margaritas offers guests traditional Mexican fare with excellent prices and fabulous service. The atmosphere is fun and festive with excellent and friendly service. During the warmer months, Dos Margaritas opens up a patio garden area where dinner is served and smoking is permitted. One of three locations in the greater Nashville area, Dos Margaritas in Hendersonville has sister spots in Gallatin and Clarksville. All of these locations are favored by locals. The chimichanga and chile relleno are particularly good and very reasonably priced. - Lynn-nore Chittom

Loveless Cafe

"One of Nashville's Great Traditions"

Enjoy Southern delicacies at this nationally acclaimed venue, which has been frequented by celebrities, world travelers and local residents for nearly fifty years. Try the award-winning country ham and red-eye gravy, smoked pork chop, Southern-fried Chicken and made-from-scratch biscuits with homemade preserves cooked right in the kitchen. They hickory smoke their meats starting at 3a every morning, so you know you're getting the real, traditionally made Southern best.
