The Dirt Bar

"Three Sixty Five Days of Fun"

Situated in the heart of Houston, The Dirt Bar is famed for its eerie ambiance, rock n roll playlist, and moderately priced drinks. Popular local metal bands play at this bar regularly, drawing a decent crowd. After performing for fans in the nearby Toyota Center, members of popular bands and singers stop by The Dirt Bar occasionally to grab drinks and connect with their fans. Dim red lights, loud metal music blasted through huge speakers, and a mainly metal-loving crowd at this bar makes it worth visiting for rock n roll fans in the city.

Pearl Bar

"Where The Cool Kids Hang"

Seldom does such an intrinsically cool place don the matching atmosphere to go with it. Among the ever-lively Washington Ave's super trendy bars, pubs, and clubs, Pearl Bar takes the cake. Pearl has 2 different areas working in beautiful nightlife harmony with one another. The inside is a buzzing modern sanctuary of beautiful young people and crowded mingling, while the outside is just a stupendous backyard party. The bartenders are seasoned veterans of mixology and they handle the overflowing weekend crowd well. Stop in for less crowded happy hour with great drink specials. -Adam Rosen

Canyon Creek Cafe

"A Real Texas Hill Country Joint"

Central Texas is a relaxing place. If you don't have the time to make a road trip, treat yourself to Canyon Creek Cafe. With such a laid back atmosphere and friendly folks, you're liable to go for lunch and stay through happy hour. Enjoy good ole American classics and Texas faves, like insanely good burgers and fat sandwiches. The choices seem endless and the taste is heavenly. Feel like something lighter? The salads rock and roll, like the Gonzo Garbonzo with plump chickpeas, avocado, crisp sprouts, and tangy feta. Choose from over 30 beers to wash it down while watching a ballgame and chatting with friends. They're open early for breakfast on the weekends too. -Adam Rosen
