Pepe's and Mito's Mexican Cafe

"Contemporary Mexican American Foods"

This exciting Dallas Mexican-American nightspot offers gourmet dishes that are more Mexican than American. Pepe's and Mito's is a great way to experience nightlife in Dallas. The setting is freshly painted and spotless with Mexican American accents. Colors are bright and vibrant, while lighting is subdued to allow a special dining experience. Service is warm and friendly, anticipating your every need. Specialty dishes include Spinach and Mushroom Enchiladas, house-made Pork Tamales, Pollo al Mojo (juicy flattened chicken breast infused with garlic), and Garlicky Guiso (beef-onion-bell pepper stew in a dark, rich gravy). The homemade flour tortillas and sopapillas are outstanding.

Keller's Drive-In

"1950s Drive-in Hamburger Place"

Classic cars and old-fashioned hamburgers are Keller's specialties. Very popular with all age groups, this hamburger institution is a great place to eat and enjoy beautiful weather. Rustic drive-in and parking carports give this place a nostalgic twist. Just flash your car lights to get the wait staff's (once known as car-hops) attention. The fish sandwich, chicken strips, homemade chili and other favorites provide you with a wide range of choices, not to mention the habit-forming hamburgers.

Cavalli Pizza

"Delicious Neapolitan Pizzas"

Cavalli Pizza takes pride in its authentic recipes, fresh ingredients and commitment to excellence. In fact, it is supposedly the "first certified Neapolitan pizza in Texas." The menu features specialty pizzas, the option to create your own pizza, wood-fired sandwiches and salads. There are even dessert pizzas, the most tempting of which are definitely the Nutella pizza and the S'mores pizza!
