Tokyo Trick Art Museum

"Trickster Paintings"

Located on the 4th floor of DECKS Tokyo Beach, the Tokyo Trick Art Museum lures you in with funky displays and entrancing 3D artworks. There are many interesting paintings. These paintings will trick your sense of sight; it seems like you are climbing into them. Taking pictures is a good way to share that feeling with your friends and family. This museum also has a goods store, where you can buy many strange and funny items.

Gundam Base Tokyo

"Immerse Yourself in the Gundam World"

Located on the seventh floor of the Diver City Tokyo Plaza, the Gundam Base Tokyo is where you can enjoy the Gundam (popular Japanese robot animation) world through many attractions, toys and exhibits. Avid fans of the popular franchise can attend workshops where they can work on creating their own Gunpla (model kits pertaining to the mobile suits) or they can traipse through the section which displays an array of Gunpla, the oldest one dating back to 1980. At the goods store, you can shop for exclusive goods.

Meguro Parasitological Museum

"Parasitological Exhibits"

Medical scientists avail themselves of this research facility to continue the experiments of Satoru Kamegai, the facility's founder. On the first floor the visitor can view uncommon infectious bugs while the second floor is dedicated to parasites. Noteworthy specimens are displayed on panels, e.g. tapeworms whose length can reach many meters. Information on parasites related to malaria is another attraction. This is certainly the place to explore any thoughts you may have had about the effects of a parasite invasion on your own body!
