Little India Restaurant

"Amazing Indian Delicacies"

To get a slice of Indian cuisine, and to taste the amazing curry variants, you must visit the Little India Restaurant. Located at Queen Street West, it lies just a stones throw away from downtown. With minimal ambiance and a simple decor, the restaurant creates a cozy atmosphere, which is best suited for an intimate or casual meal. Famous for their Butter Chicken and silk soft naans, this little eatery is the one-stop heaven to satisfy all Indian cravings. Do give a try to their Shahi Chicken, Karahi Gosht, Shrimp Vindaloo and Paneer Korma, which can be had with piping hot rotis, or simple steamed rice. Catering, delivery and take-out services are also carried out here.

Banjara

"Simply Indian"

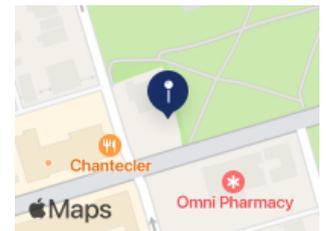

If the divine smell of tandoori dishes make you hungry, then you have to visit Banjara, the amazing Indian restaurant in the heart of Koreatown. Located just next to Christie Pits Park, this little eatery has a modest ambiance, which seems perfect for a casual meal, or a quick take-away. Specializing in making tandoori dishes, the restaurant features a all-you-can-eat menu of 20 dishes, which are absolutely mouth-watering. An al-carte option is also available, for those who like a bit of indulgence, when it comes to biryanis and fat-laden kulchas. While all their dishes are simply gorgeous, the ones that customers seem to love include, butter chicken, mango lassi, Lamb Roganjosht and Navratan Korma.
