

"Best History Museums in Portland"

Realizzata per : Cityseeker

📍 3 Posizioni indicati

📷 by Kelvin Kay, Kkmd at en.wikipedia ©

Oregon Maritime Museum

"Portland's Sea-Faring History"

Portlandia flows to the sea as you visit this piece of Rip City's past. Step on board the only remaining operational steam sternwheel tug in the country to learn all about boating while admiring all of the artifacts and exhibits. Take the tugboat tour and hear how old seafarers battled the river currents. If you want to learn more visit their library, the cheerful staff will give provide some interesting bits of information. Visit the gift store and check out the books and nautical themed gifts. The view of the city aboard the ship is an added proposition that Oregon Maritime Museum offers.

☎ +1 503 224 7724

🌐 www.oregonmaritimemus eum.org/

✉ info@oregonmaritimemuse um.org

📍 198 SouthWest Naito Parkway, SouthWest Pine Street, Portland OR

📷 by Cord Rodefeld ©

The Oregon Historical Society

"Bringing the Past Alive"

Walk through the grand plaza and step into Oregon's past. Located in Portland's cultural district, The Oregon Historical Society has bountiful collections of historical artifacts, photographs, moving pictures, maps and more. Many exhibits are interactive, and the atmosphere is friendly. The museum is very well-maintained and curated in a way to provide easy navigation, it appears as though you are living history as you navigate your way through the interior. The center's shop is full of Native American jewelry, baskets and pots. The book collection covers all of the Northwest's history for adults and children.

☎ +1 503 222 1741

🌐 www.ohs.org

✉ orhist@ohs.org

📍 1200 Southwest Park Avenue, Portland OR

📷 by Steven Pavlov ©

Pittock Mansion

"European Splendor"

Henry Pittock, founder of Portland's Oregonian newspaper, built this spectacular mansion in 1914 and lived there until his death in 1919. This stately mansion was created in the style of a French Renaissance chateau and boasts three floors plus an incredible view of the city. The mansion is now a museum and showcases local history through artifacts and exhibits. Guests can tour the mansion and even book space for private functions.

☎ +1 503 823 3623

🌐 pittockmansion.com/

✉ emarcum@pittockmansion. org

📍 3229 Northwest Pittock Drive, Portland OR

UNIRSI A NOI A :
cityseeker.com