The Peaceable Kingdom

"Fox Point's Craft Kingdom"

The owners here at this Fox Point neighborhood shop are purveyors of arts and crafts that come from all over the world. Inside they feature ceramics, wood carvings, jewelry, art and much more. The regions from where the objects are procured range from Peshawar, Pakistan to Durban, South Africa and each item is guaranteed in terms of authenticity. One of the major highlights of the shop is the array of dolls and trinkets from Mexico's Day of the Dead celebration.

Seven Stars

"Baked Delights"

More than a decade old, Seven Stars enralls Providence with the freshest of breads every day. The bakery is committed to using fresh local ingredients for their creations and has staunchly supported local vendors. To go along with their first-rate breads is a delectable selection of sandwiches and pastries as well as some great coffee. Top picks here include the sticky bun, raspberry danish, lemon cake, lemon currant scones, and grammy's chocolate cookies. Accompanied by an aromatic cup of coffee, their pastries make for a great breakfast or quick midday bite.

Edgewood Cheese Shop and Eatery

"Say Cheese!"

New England Culinary Institute alumni Casey D'Arconte and his partner Adrienne opened the Edgewood Cheese Shop and Eatery, a cheese shop and restaurant serving locally-sourced produce in a casual setting. The deli and store highlights seasonal specialties and you can purchase cheese platters, jams, mustard, charcuterie, and other gourmet specialties here. Want to learn more about cheese? The shop also regularly hosts classes where you can meet fellow foodies and enjoy savoring (and learning about) different types of cheeses in a fun atmosphere. Details are available on the website.
