Henry's Cocktail Lounge

"Funky Dive Bar"

If you are looking for a cheap divey spot to grab a drink in a city full of upscale wine and cocktail lounges, this is the place to come to. Henry's Cocktail Lounge is touted as one the few salt-of-the-earth dive bars to still exist in Napa. Even though it has moved a couple of buildings away from its original location, it still maintains its low-key dive bar feel. The bold red walls are covered in framed photographs of the city and people can be chatting at the bar over a drink or sitting at one of the small tables. Friendly bartenders, super cheap drinks, a jukebox and a lively crowd constitute the ambiance at Henry's.

Green Door

"Dive-In"

People who have lived in the wine country long enough know that there is only one place to be after a hard day's work -the Green Door. With a relaxed atmosphere that permeates every nook and corner of this laid-back dive bar, don't be surprised if you find yourself refusing to leave. Cheap alcohol is abundant here, but that's not what patrons come in here for. Possibly one of the only bars in California to find a loophole in the state's smoking laws, this dive allows indoor smoking. Grab yourself a seat, light up and start conversations with random strangers. They all do.

Maya Restaurant

"Yucatan Delights"

It is hard not to notice the Mayan paintings and petite wooden tables. The Yucatan menu with European and Caribbean influences is sometimes spicy but can be modified to suit your taste. Prawns Diablo, rib eye steak and Maya carnitas are interesting entree choices. While Lime tortilla soup and Maya house salad are innovative culinary treats that tease your palate. Margaritas can be sipped at the Temple of Tequila which is an aptly named bar. Mayan memorabilia is also available at the restaurant.
