

"Best Free Sites in Cape Cod"

Realizzata per : Cityseeker

📍 5 Posizioni indicati

📷 by jjandames ©

Cape Cod Potato Chip Factory Tour

"Fun With Spuds"

Cape Cod potato chips are a favorite around the US, and the unique kettle-cooking method is what makes these famous chips so popular. You can watch the whole process, from peeling to cooking to bagging, at the factory's free, self-guided tour. In fact, they will pay you—you get a free bag of chips at the end of the tour. The Cape Cod Chips gift shop offers a great selection of chips, pretzels, and novelties such as shirts, caps and collectibles.

☎ +1 508 775 3358

🌐 www.capecodchips.com

✉ customerservice@capecodchips.com

📍 100 Breed's Hill Road, Hyannis MA

📷 by David A Finkelstein ©

Taylor-Bray Farm

"A Day at the Farm"

Nestled amidst vast open fields, away from the busy city, Taylor-Bray Farm is a fine place to relax and unwind. A place for learning and recreation, at the farm one can gain some vital information on the city's agricultural industry, as well as revel amidst the sprawling lawns. Through educational programs for kids and adults alike, the farm imparts basic understanding on the process of growing and maintaining several kinds of vegetables, fruits and even animals. At the petting zoo, one can feed and interact with a number of farm animals.

🌐 www.taylorbrayfarm.org/

✉ information@taylorbrayfarm.org

📍 108 Bray Farm Road North, Yarmouth Port MA

📷 by dougward ©

Scargo Tower

"Il punto più alto di Cape Cod"

La torre di mattoni non è notevole per la sua architettura ma per la sua incredibile vista. Situata a Dennis in cima al Scargo Hill, alto 50 metri (il punto più alto di Cape Cod), quando il cielo è limpido potete vedere il Provincetown Monument e la terra ferma del Massachusetts. Con qualunque condizione climatica potete vedere il lago Scargo, che prende il nome da una principessa indiana americana. È anche un posto molto romantico soprattutto per ammirare il tramonto o il cielo stellato.

☎ +1 508 394 8300 (Tourist Information)

🌐 www.dennishistsoc.org/Museums/Museums-12-Scargo.html

📍 152 Scargo Hill Road, (Off Route 6A), Dennis MA

Spohr Gardens

"Beautiful Garden"

Situated among blooming daffodils, lilies and many more flowers is Spohr Gardens. Created originally Margaret and Charles D. Spohr around their house, this garden welcomes visitors all year round. Welcome the season spring with the beauty of daffodils or simply sit by the oyster pond and enjoy the cool breeze. There are also other events such as face painting, a wishing tree and many more. The place is perfect for a day out and reconnecting with your family and loved ones.

+1 508 548 0623

45 Fells Road, Falmouth MA

by Bruce Tuten

Woods Hole Science Aquarium

"Oldest Aquarium in America"

Focused solely on local waters, this small but impressive aquarium has been delighting visitors since 1871. Kids especially love the "touch tank," where they can reach into tide pools filled with starfish and sea cucumbers. Other displays include sea turtles, lobster and wolffish. A special exhibit shows the effect of plastic trash on marine life. Two harbor seals have taken up residence in an outdoor pool and are a star attraction. The aquarium is operated by the Northeast Fisheries Science Center.

+1 508 495 2001

aquarium.nefsc.noaa.gov/

George.Liles@noaa.gov

166 Water Street, Woods Hole MA

UNIRSI A NOI A :

cityseeker.com