

"Best Local History & Culture in Charlotte"

Realizzata per : Cityseeker

📍 5 Posizioni indicati

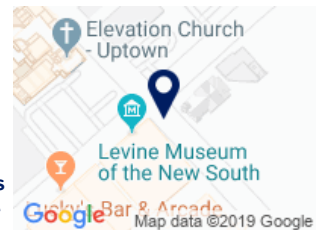

📷 by John Barreiros ©

Levine Museum of the New South

"Interactive Museum"

The heart of this museum lies in an exploration of the people who have changed and shaped the social landscape of the South since the end of the Civil War. The exhibit addresses controversial issues like race relations and immigration, providing a forum for discussion and contemplation. The facility is newly renovated and many of the pieces contain modern multimedia displays and virtual tours that make the learning experience fun for all ages. Be sure to explore the 'Cotton Fields to Skyscrapers' exhibit, one of the permanent collections that focuses on the changing face of Charlotte and the Piedmont region of North Carolina.

☎ +1 704 333 1887

💻 www.museumofthenewsouth.org

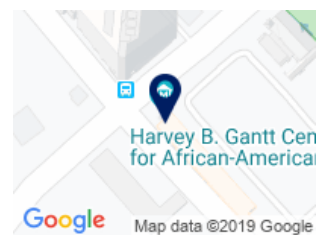

📍 200 East 7th Street, Charlotte NC

Harvey B. Gantt Center for African-American Arts+Culture

"African American Cultural Center"

Located on the AME Zion Church premises is The Harvey B. Gantt Center for African American Arts and Culture, founded to promote and preserve black culture, history and art. This landmark consists of an outdoor amphitheater, an indoor theater and two galleries (Montgomery and Stained Glass). Events such as the Teen Drama Camp and Jazz Evenings are held here regularly, as are weddings, private gatherings and business meetings. Also check out the interactive programs for children.

☎ +1 704 547 3700

💻 www.ganttcenter.org/

📍 551 South Tryon Street, Charlotte NC

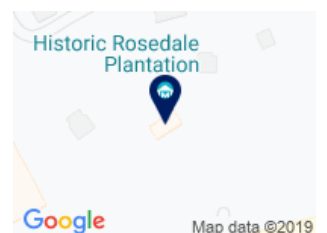

📷 by Cratons ©

Historic Rosedale

"Backcountry Venue"

Known as "Frew's Folly" for the extravagance of the owner who built it, this plantation house is a beautiful example of the rich gentleman's life of the early 19th Century. Occupied by several rich families and their slaves in succession, the house has many a tale to reveal. Tours of the area promote this heritage and educate folks about the lifestyles of their probable ancestors. Stroll through the beautiful gardens amid the trees, barns and outbuildings, and look at the old wash-house that was once full of suds and chatting women. A myriad of events like tea-parties, fund-raisers and candle-light tours take place here as well.

☎ +1 704 335 0325

💻 www.historicrosedale.org/ ✉ roseplan@historicrosedale.org

📍 3427 North Tryon Street, Between 36th street and Sugar Creek Road, Charlotte NC

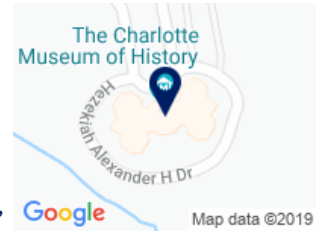

by James Willamor ©

The Charlotte Museum of History

"Calling All History Buffs"

Housing the Hezekiah Alexander Homesite, the Charlotte Museum of History plays a pivotal role in showcasing the region's history. Come and learn more about the area's fascinating past with exhibits like "Stitched from the Soul," "Community of Faiths," "Watch Charlotte Grow" and many, many more. Also open to the public is the 18th-century restored house of the revolutionary Hezekiah Alexander, a perfect example of living conditions during that era. Go back in time and discover all the past has to offer; check the website for the latest exhibits.

+1 704-568-1774

www.charlottemuseum.org/

info@charlottemuseum.org

3500 Shamrock Drive, Charlotte NC

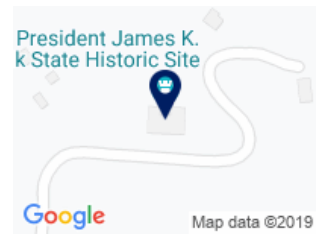

by Government & Heritage Library, State Library of NC ©

President James K. Polk State Historic Site

"In Memoriam"

The 11th president of the United States, James K. Polk, is honored here. Avail of the guided tour, complete with a costumed interpreter and walk through the president's family home in the country, while collecting nuggets of information on his life and achievements. Camps, festivals and celebrations are also organized here. This is a worthwhile trip indeed for those doing research, or those with a keen interest in politics and public lives. Check the website for some good reading before you visit.

+1 704 889 7145

polk@ncmail.net

12031 Lancaster Highway, Pineville NC

UNIRSI A NOI A :
cityseeker.com