Bamboo Wood Pavilion Inc.

"Wild Massage"

Located in Little Saigon, Bamboo Wood's super-cheap hour-long massage is paired with a cultural shock. No such thing as private booths here as twelve sets of recliners and ottomans are all placed in one room, and patrons are asked to take their shirts off. Tank tops are recommended for females to avoid the slightest awkwardness of towel wrapping in public. The process starts with soaking feet in herbal water as one sits in an ottoman and flexes every joint in the body. Then the client moves over to the recliner for a head-to-toe massage. The absolute reward: complete relaxation of every muscle and every joint.
