Hotel Pallavi International

"The Stories From the Past"

This 19th-century palace-turned-hotel evokes memories of a rich past and its glories. Once the residence of Hathwa Raj rulers of Bihar, this building exudes an elegant charisma. The setting is picturesque with a lush green garden and a beautiful pool. Rooms are basic with comfortable amenities and the furnishings are satisfactory. Shivam, the conference hall with a capacity of around 200, and Darpan, the charming restaurant with centralized air conditioning, contribute to the popularity of the place. With vintage atmosphere and a friendly service, this heritage hotel is a good option in Varanasi if you are not looking to stay near the ghats of Ganga.
