Steigenberger Frankfurter Hof

"Luxury & Tradition"

Situated on the exclusive Kaiserstraße, Frankfurter Hof is home to one of the finest gourmet restaurants in Germany, Restaurant Français. The magnificent 19th-century neo-Renaissance building is one of the few surviving remainders of the beautiful Altstadt (Old Town) and has attracted numerous famous names over the years, including the philosopher Schopenhauer who was a regular lunchtime guest. The timelessly elegant interior exudes a laid-back, cosmopolitan ambiance; the conference rooms are almost always full. The complex includes Oscar's bistro, a bar, several boutiques, and a specialist cigar shop and Havana Lounge, the exclusive smokers' club. The recently opened spa in the hotel offers hammam, massages and other beauty treatments.

Ramada Hotel Frankfurt City Center & Financial District

"Cozy & Comfortable"

Established in 1893 and having undergone several renovations, the Ramada Hotel Frankfurt City Center & Financial District has come to be known as one of the best business hotels in Frankfurt. Located just five minutes from the main station and a stone's throw from the exhibition center, there's plenty going on close by. It offers good quality service with modern and pleasantly decorated rooms, and you can choose from among economy, standard, business class and suite.

Ritter Hotel

"A Historical Accommodation"

Situated in the historical Sachsenhausen, Ritter Hotel has been in existence from the 17th Century, and naturally is a wonderful demonstration of German architecture from that period. Featuring just 15 rooms, this is a cozy establishment that puts you in the center of a district known for its apple wine taverns. The hotel is also just a few minutes away from the Zeil, the city's most famous shopping street. For an enjoyable evening out, you don't have to venture too far; the hotel's bar, with its 92 cocktails, will take care of all your needs.

Le Méridien Parkhotel Frankfurt

"Central Yet Peaceful"

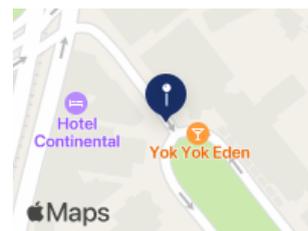

Located close to the main station, this first class hotel is perfect for business travelers. The 19th-century brick façade has been lovingly restored and epitomizes the hotel's caring philosophy. The interior of Le Méridien Parkhotel is an oasis of calm. Plenty of rooms, particularly those in the annex, are extremely quiet. Come, unwind in the heart of the city.
